Heavy Agenda and T.V. Cameras at Council

The Town Council wrestled with a heavy agenda under the gaze of television cameras at the regular council meeting on November 18. Extensions of the meeting were required as the meeting extended past the eleventh hour with items left outstanding. Capital Cable cameras recorded nearly four full hours of the council at work, the first time that a St. Albert Town Council has had television coverage of this type, and several items had to be referred to a meeting scheduled for Tuesday evening. The council meeting was broadcast on Cable 11 on Tuesday evening.

Nine notices of motion were submitted to be discussed at the meeting. These notices had been made at earlier meetings and were referred to this meeting for decision.

Coun. Smith had two motions; that staff report on the feasibility of drawing up guidelines for consideration of appeals where garages cannot satisfy the present bylaws, and that council receive a report from staff on the feasibility of a bylaw that all single family residences built without garages shall be built so that there is room for a single carport or garage adjacent to the house.

Explaining why she was explaining the motion, Mrs. Smith said, "We have no guidelines for assessing where the rules should be bent... we tend to work and the development appeal board may tend to work on an individual basis and I think that this is unsatisfactory." Coun. Smith explained that the motion was simply a request that staff attempt to indicate general lines that would indicate policies for a development appeal board to follow. The motion passed 7 to 0 without discussion.

Coun. Smith's second motion was made due to her concern that houses not located on the lot by a building so that a garage or carport can be located which results in grief when an owner wishes to construct them. Coun. Luky stated that he felt that this indicated that the houses were too large for the lot size due to the fact that lots are kept small to maximize the number of lots in an area. He also queried the possibility the builders and developers of illustrating a plan with possible locations of garages or carports for a location. Coun. Smith stated that such information could be available already and said that this type of clarification would make things easier for those buying houses. The motion passed 7 to 0.

Coun. Thronson presented five motions. The first dealt with a recommendation that the driveway immediately adjacent to the sidewalk in front of the Safeway Store be designated as a fire and emergency vehicle route and that parking from the west end of the bike rack to the west exit from the store be prohibited and stopping permitted only for loading or unloading purposes with the driver remaining in the vehicle. In addition the access to the rear of the store at the west end of the unloading dock to the Smoke Shop designated the same. This motion passed 7 to 0 with council aware of the problem in that area.

Coun. Thronson's second motion dealt with the erection of a right turn only sign to be placed on the boulevard facing the entrance/exit immediately west of the Shell Station. Problems have been encountered with people turning the wrong way on to the one-way section and council voted 7 to 0 in favour of the motion.

Coun. Thronson also moved that the Off-Highway Vehicles Act should be printed in the newspaper and stated that he was satisfied if only the salient points of the act were printed in view of the length and complexity of the Act. The motion carried 7 to 0.

Coun. Thronson's fourth motion was that Bylaw 23/71 be amended to prevent the use of public property for displaying all political campaign signs. Council disagreed.

Workmen are busily putting the finishing touches to the Senior Citizens Recreation Centre on Tache Street. It is expected that the Centre will be ready for the opening on December 15 if volunteers come forward to finish off plumbing and electrical work in the building's interior. The workmen presently putting their efforts into completing the building are Joe, Andre, and Ray Rouault who told the Gazette photographer that the call was out to bring volunteers down to assist in the completion of the structure. The Gazette was also informed that on several occasions the senior citizens were at the centre in force to assist before the weather turned cold.

Alberta Land Use Forum

The Field representative of the Rural Education and Development Association-Operation Land Use, Mr. Brian Hayley, attended the Committee of the Whole meeting on November 12. Mr. Hayley explained to the members of the committee the implications of the project and gave a brief outline of the information which has been accumulated in the form of technical reports and studies.

Mr. Hayley stated that the Land Use Forum was established in the spring of 1973 to look at various land use concerns throughout the province. The forum is directly responsible to four ministers of the provincial government (Municipal Affairs, Agriculture, Environment and Lands and Forests). The outcome of the program will help these ministers with their planned policies.

The program is proceeding in four phases. The first phase consisted of the gathering of information relating to the terms of reference, done by personnel within various government departments and by various outside consulting firms.

The second phase was conducted by REDA and consisted of making available to the public the accumulated information from the first phase. This part of the program, which will be completed by mid-December, gave the public the opportunity to discuss and study the issues surrounding land use. As part of this phase is public input of views and opinions.

The third phase of the forum will be underway in the spring of 1975. Public

MD of Sturgeon holds trump card on St. Albert's water supply

St. Albert faces a severe water shortage this coming summer if the passage of a proposed waterline through MD of Sturgeon land is unduly delayed.

The MD, at its regular meeting in Morinville Nov. 14, expressed fears that excavations for the waterline would cause serious disruptions for school buses and for residents in that area of the MD affected by the waterline development.

But for St. Albert the problems are much more serious if the waterline is delayed. In the summer of 1975, the peak demand for water in St. Albert will be 14.29 million gallons per week. This is expected to be cut back by more than 1.3 million gallons because Edmonton requires more water for its Bonaventure Industrial Development. Therefore the need for the proposed waterline from the Rossin reservoir will be urgent if St. Albert is to keep up with the increasing demands of a growing population.

The MD told a delegation from St. Albert at its meeting last Thursday that they could use an easement through private property which would ease the inconvenience of a road allowance.

The delegation from St.

Albert was composed of Mayor Dick Plain, Town Administrator Robert Byron, Councillors Rod Thronson, Myrna Eyfe and Town Solicitor Ernest Walter. Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn asked the delegation "What

Parkland Water Bd. asks Town for contribution to expropriation appeal

The decision of the Public Utilities Board regarding the compensation payable to the owners for the interest in land taken by expropriation is to be appealed by the Parkland Water Board to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Alberta. In a letter discussed by the Committee of the Whole on November 12, the Board asked if the Town would be interested in contributing to the cost of the appeal.

The letter stated that assistance was being sought in the light of the Town's interest in the problems of determining compensation for expropriation and mentioned that the Board would consider an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada if happens if we want to build roads or culverts across the waterline?"

necessary.

Coun. Eyfe began the comments from members of Council by stating that the matter does not seem to have much to do with St. Albert and that she would view the situation differently if the Town was part of a regional water board covering the total area.

meetings will be held in a number of centres in the province where the public and various organizations interested in the topics will be able to submit written briefs.

The fourth and final phase will be for the forum to compile the information submitted by the public at the hearings and to submit a report to the Government with recommendations.

Mr. Hayley noted that the election in October and other factors stalled him from approaching the community of St. Albert for a contribution. St. Albert has an interest in the subject of land use and although it was unable to contribute to the second phase of the forum, a motion was made by Coun. Smith to invite the Land Use Forum to hold one of the public meetings in St. Albert next year.

The Committee voted 7 to 0 in favour of the move.

Parkland water board

Mayor Richard Plain spoke on the matter stating that though he was not in favour of the proposition put forward by the Parkland Water Board, he viewed the matter with interest because the Town has a water line which crosses lands owned by property owners in the MD of Sturgeon and the Town could be in similar circumstances.

Coun. Wetsch stated that he concurred with the mayor, expressed that he had concern as to which other municipalities had been approached and what had been the practice in the past in the sharing of legal expenses. "If we do commit ourselves," he stated, "to the sharing of legal expenses and it does go to the Supreme Court of Canada it could be very expensive and also we would have very little control over the amount of the cost." He added that the information contained in the letter was inadequate for a decision to be made to support the request.

The mayor suggested that it may be of worth for the Town to obtain a copy of the Public Utilities Board order regarding expropriation by the Parkland Water Board and any additional information of pertinence "given the fact that there could be unknown to us, some commonality." The mayor put his suggestion in the form of a motion and the Committee voted 5-2 in favour of the motion. Coun. Fyfe and Wetsch voted against the motion.

Mayor Plain said that St. Albert would be sending out tenders for the waterline by December and pipe had been ordered for January 15. He said that if BACM complete the Edmonton part of the line by April, then "we could be supplying the 20,000 residents of St. Albert by May."

He pointed out that a critical sequencing was involved in meeting the above deadlines.

He admitted that the MD had expressed a legitimate difficulty but said that in the case of these minor excavations St. Albert would not be exposing the MD to the complaints of its residents.

Mr. Walter said that if the easements were obtained immediately through MD private property then the time frame would not be that difficult. However he pointed out that if one person did not want to sign the easement then this could hold back the town for one year or even 18 months.

Referring to the MD's wish that some of its residents could tie in with the proposed waterline, he said that St. Albert would love nothing better than for Edmonton to serve it, "but we have a confining influence from Edmonton." He was referring to a resolution passed by Edmonton City Council last March which agreed that water and sewer services should only be met to the limits of existing lines. He emphasized that if St. Albert had to put the line through individual properties and any difficulties arose the resulting change in the time frame would make rationing of water inevitable in St. Albert next year, "even to the extent of a complete shut-off."

"If we are cut down on the present hook-up, we'll have less this year than what we have right now," Mr. Walter added.

He said that the MD and St. Albert must reach a solution where neither party were in conflict. Mr. Flynn was quick to point out that the MD did not intend to slow up the waterline whether it went through on private property or on a road allowance.

Mr. Walter then stated it might take till next June to get the right of easement through private property.

He pointed out that when one looked at the crossing of the various properties, there was an indication of a large number of small holdings.

On the issue of serving MD residents in the area with water from the line (currently 90 per cent have to haul water from Edmonton) Mr. Walter said the MD could apply to the Public Utilities Board under Section 104 of the Public Utilities Act "directing that they be served."

Mr. Walter concluded by saying that St. Albert could be short of water to the point of hazard and "this is the only route we can get to solve the problem in time."

Both the MD and the delegation from St. Albert promised they would communicate with each other soon on this matter.

Later in the meeting, following the departure of the delegation, Mr. Flynn said the MD would have to await the results of a Local Authorities Board hearing, apply to the PUB for a hearing and watch City policy.

November 12 the LAB heard St. Albert's case for the waterline and also the desire of MD residents to tie into it, since the line would pass near their property. Results of the hearing are expected in the near future.

hamburger instead of turkey

One of the hazards of being a Minister is a steady diet of banquet style meals, roast beef and turkey.

In Edmonton over the past few weeks there has been a large number of banquets as over 300 leaders gathered in the city for their annual meetings, project sessions and conferences.

One Minister of the Crown, Culture, Youth and Recreation Minister Horst Schmidt let drop a chance remark at a 4H and Junior Forest Warden program recently.

Unfortunately it was overheard by a staff member at the banquet.

The result? Instead of being regaled with turkey and roast beef, the Minister had to be content with a hot hamburger sandwich.

motion was defeated 1 to 6, he was the only councillor to vote in favour.

Coun. Thronsdon's final motion dealt with approving Syncrude Canada Ltd. and Canadian Bechtel Ltd. for the purposes of discussing the locating light polluting industry in the corporate limits of St. Albert. This motion was defeated after long discussion 2 to 5. Coun. Thronsdon and Fyfe voted in favour. Other council members voted against this motion because it was felt that it would be better to approach the situation by contacting other companies in addition to just the two mentioned.

Coun. Smith had an additional motion which dealt with not permitting parking from Sunset Boulevard on both sides of Sylvan Drive to Cunningham Road. Council elected to hold off making a decision on the matter until the residents of the area are informed of the action.

Coun. Fyfe presented a motion which also dealt with the subject of light non-polluting industry. The motion was that the Town of St. Albert explore ways of finding a suitable area for an industrial park and further that the St. Albert Town Council request a meeting with the Honourable Mr. Peacock and the Honourable Mr. Russell to discuss ways of developing an industrial park within town boundaries. The motion led to considerable discussion with the result being that the motion was split to form two motions. Discussion included the feelings being expressed by various councillors that the motion was too specific, that all possible ways of exploring the location of an industrial park should be explored. The first part of the motion passed 7 to 0. The second part which was amended so as not to be as restrictive as it had been in its original form was that the St. Albert Town Council request a meeting with the Honourable Mr. Peacock and the Honourable Mr. Russell to discuss ways of developing an industrial park within the boundaries of the town. It failed with a vote of 3 to 4. Coun. Fyfe, Wetsch and Thronsdon voted in favour.

Future challenge for Child Care

"The Challenge of the Future" was the theme of the annual meeting of the Alberta Association of Child Care Centres, held last month in Red Deer.

A proposal for an expanded role of the Alberta Association of Child Care Centres was presented to the members by the Program Evaluation Project Committee. The proposal was a compilation of recommendations made during the course of the recent institutional survey and Conference on Program Evaluation. Recommendations included: provision of further help with program evaluation, development of explicit standards of care, and investigation into special concerns such as Child Care Workers' problems and the rights of children. Since the elected executive of the Association is already kept busy with the Association's workshops, meetings, socials and annual educational conference, it was proposed that the Association consider hiring four full time personnel to carry out the suggested expanded role. The membership will make some decisions on the proposal at a general membership meeting this month.

Following discussion of the proposal, Denis Bell (Assistant Director of Child Welfare for the Department of Health and Social Development) spoke on "Future Directions in Child Welfare." Trends he predicted will be important in the future were: integration of services to children; provision of small regional resources for special care (providing assessment, treatment, detention, and group care of children); development of residential treatment standards; and provision of more complete services to families with problems. Mr. Bell stated that the plight of Indian and Metis children and families should be given highest priority in the future.

Mr. Bell noted the influence of the recent issue of children's rights. He predicted that the day may come in Alberta wherein all children being charged with delinquencies may have a real opportunity to be represented by legal counsel in court. The problem of children's rights is also stimulating a new look at the 44 year old federal Juvenile Delinquents Act.

Chosen at the annual meeting to help the Alberta Association of Child Care Centres meet some of the challenges of the future were the new executive. The President of the Association is Harvey Johnson, a Social Worker at Mapleridge in Edmonton. Gerry Fewster, Director of William Roper Hull Home in Calgary, is the First Vice-President; Sister Patricia McManis, Director of Social Services at Grant MacEwan Community College in Edmonton, is Educational Vice-President; John Taylor, Program Supervisor at Youth Development Centre in Edmonton, is Treasurer; Shirley Yakunin, Arts and Crafts co-ordinator at Calgary Children's Service Centre, is Social Convenor; Karen Wilis, Child Care Counsellor at Westfield in Edmonton, is Secretary; and Kathy Penner, Secretary to the Director at Mapleridge in Edmonton, is the Editorial Chairwoman.

The Alberta Association of Child Care Centres, incorporated in 1967, has a membership of 18 residential child care centres as well as several other agencies and individuals who serve children in Alberta in different ways.

Rehabilitation centre receives Government grant

The Provincial Government has just made a final payment of $50,000 to the Salvation Army's 1972 capital campaign for funding the Harbour Light Centre.

This final payment completes a $150,000 commitment to the Centre which helps rehabilitate alcoholics. The Centre is located at 9611

-102 Avenue and also helps drug addicts and people with similar types of problems.

The Centre was built at a cost of $500,000 following the organizations appeal for capital funds of $750,000. That campaign raised $690,000 including the Government contributions.

Regional utilities study

The Provincial Rural Development Committee has recommended that a regional utilities study be carried out in the MD of Sturgeon No. 90.

The study will be funded by the Provincial Government.

The request for the study to be carried out was made by the MD July 17. Particular areas which will come under the scope of the report will be transportation and recreation.

The MD will liaise with the Planning and Research Division of the Department of the Environment to work out further details of the study.

Northwest sector outlined at committee meeting

BACM's proposal for the Northwest sector was discussed by the Committee of the Whole at the meeting November 12. Mr. Michael Rogers of BACM was present along with Mr. Don Price, Planner, and Mr. Pat Butler, Landscape Architect, to outline the company's proposal and answer questions raised by the councillors.

Mr. Rogers explained that the size of the area under consideration was 16,000 acres, "(land) in the town," (the sector is bounded on the north by the Villeneuve Road, on the east by Highway #2, on the south by the Sturgeon River, and on the west roughly by the mid-section line through Sections 6 and 7 - 54-25-W4 and the common boundary between River Lots 16 and 17. Mr. Rogers pointed out that BACM had projected a population figure of 38,000.

The area adjacent to the ravine area was originally slated for exclusive residential development but Mr. Rogers suggested that a look should be taken at the situation in light of changing demands for housing types.

Mr. Rogers went on to state that BACM chose to go on the north west side of town which "not only places it furthest away from the City of Edmonton but also strengthens, or should strengthen the Town centre." Mr. Rogers also mentioned that the plan was chosen so as to strengthen the physical characteristics of the town as a separate community.

Mr. Price stated that the intention of the plan was to accentuate a natural ravine area. He explained that the basic approach was to accentuate the ravine and existing tree growth and to try and build "central amenity pedestrian core." Mr. Price pointed out that the plan had been modified to orient traffic to the periphery of the residential area and the arterial roads. The proposal had seven neighbourhoods indicated, one of which is not under the control of BACM and two which are practically completed. The remaining neighbourhoods would support populations between 5,000 and 6,000 and focusing upon the central amenity. Commercial development aspect would include one medium community centre with a modest retail element, complemented by two or three convenience retail outlets with good vehicular access.

Mr. Butler outlined the proposal for developing the recreation potential of the area which consist of the establishment of a park designed to serve the needs of neighbourhood. Features of the recreational development would be a lake, community centre, commercial development, and an extensive walkway system. Mr. Butler explained that it was not the intention to create a private lake shore though neither was the intention to create a facility which would be exploited by the entire town. A slide show of what the project would resemble, using a park and lake facility in Calgary as a model, was used to illustrate the proposal.

Mr. Rogers summarized the presentation by stating that it was hoped that the right thing would be done with the area. He noted that time was imperative and the company wished to commence as soon as possible.

Mr. Wayne Gordon, Town Planner, stated that pressures are being felt on housing costs which is resulting in demands for higher density forms of development. The estimation of the development of housing in the area had been 300 lots per annum resulting in a 12 year development period. Differences between the BACM plan and his own was that BACM had included substantial open space in the central amenity zone though he stated that the feature should not be at the expense of active play areas throughout the rest of the development. Additional river crossings were a transportation need if the area was to be developed.

Basing suggestions regarding increased townhouse development on the fact reduced lot sales are being experienced, Mr. Rogers stated that zero lot lines, town houses and duplex development would require examination. He noted a development time of 13 years in terms of land absorption in this case.

Closing the discussion of the matter, Mayor Plain stated that he anticipated further dialogue with BACM on this matter.

Kinsmen reject mezzonine for equipment storage

The Kinsmen Club were referred to the Recreation Director, Mr. Bernie March, to investigate the use of the mezzanine in the arena as a storage area for their equipment during the Committee of the Whole meeting held November 12.

On July 16, 1973, the Kinsmen had discussed with members of council the possibility of construction of a storage garage on town owned property. At that time it was explained that the building was needed for storing hockey and rodeo equipment during their respective off-seasons. Approval was given by council for the project at that time but in explaining the reason for bringing the matter forward, Mr. Byron said that council should re-examine the matter.

Mr. Byron explained that the mezzanine area above the ice surface, seldom used, could be utilized by providing storage rooms. The Administrator also mentioned that a meeting area could be provided on the mezzanine. The advantages mentioned for having the storage space available in the arena was that the existing building would be utilized and that storage facilities for minor hockey, lacrosse, baseball, soccer etcetera could be housed under one roof. Mr. Byron also mentioned the fact of continuous supervision would discourage vandalism.

Mr. Terry Moore, president of the Kinsmen Club was present at the meeting on November 12 to explain the situation and to answer the questions of the Committee in regard to the storage requirements. Mr. Moore stated that the garage has been ordered and that the present activity of the Kinsmen was that of determining a location. He mentioned that there would be no objection to use of the mezzanine space for storage if needs were satisfied.

Council Breadner moved it be recommended to council that the Kinsmen Club meet with staff to resolve the establishment of storage space in the arena. The motion was carried 7 to 0.

The matter was brought back to council on November 18 following discussion between the Kinsmen and the recreation director, Mr. Barry Welsh, past president of the Kinsmen, informed the council that inspection of the proposed area proved that it was not satisfactory. Mr. Welsh reported that the equipment requiring storage warranted more space than was available and "the proposed area above the arena could not satisfactorily satisfy our needs." He restated the club's request for a site on town owned property for the placement of a storage garage for the bulky equipment requiring storage.

Mr. Welsh outlined the storage requirements of the Kinsmen and told council that the garage purchased had been specifically designed to satisfy these needs. He also related that previous experience where public facilities had been utilized for storage, damage had been experienced.

A resolution had been passed by the previous council to allow the Kinsmen to erect the proposed garage on town property. In light of the arena mezzanine being unsuitable, Council Breadner moved that the previous motion on the matter be carried out and because of the need for rapid action, the agreement is to be negotiated with staff with final ratification by the executive officer.

The motion carried 7 to 0.

Shopping Centers

On behalf of National Land Consultants Ltd., and Integrated Building Corporation of St. Albert, I would like to thank you for the excellent coverage given to the public meeting of November 6, concerning shopping centre proposals.

I would however like to correct a statement your article makes, that the shopping centre as proposed by National Land Consultants and Integrated Building Corporation of St. Albert, is to be developed on the Ball Estate. In point of fact, the Ball Estate is the site proposed for development by Darcene Holdings. The NLC site is located immediately to the southeast of the intersection of Gervais Road and St. Albert Trail.

Time not yet ripe for regional shopping centre says developer

The time is not yet ripe for St. Albert to have a regional shopping centre.

That was the opinion of John Polonuk a planning consultant with St. Albert Investments when he presented his plans for "project x" at a third town sponsored forum on the subject of a regional shopping centre for St. Albert at the Club Mocombo last Wednesday night.

The proposal from Mr. Polonuk had been preceded earlier by a more lavish development plan from Tony Hutton, architect, for Sam Shapiro of Darene Investments Ltd.

Mr. Polonuk advised the 50 or so members of the public attending the meeting that talk of an immediate regional shopping centre for St. Albert was premature and that it should be looked at at some future date.

However he pointed out that his firm was holding in reserve a 60 acre site in the north east section of land just outside St. Albert (the Bellerose area) for future development as a regional shopping centre. He said that this approach was in the main due to the town of St. Albert's desire for stage by stage development following the policies of the new council.

He also said that studies in Edmonton had shown that St. Albert would have to wait to three or four times its present size before such a development was needed.

His cautious approach was well received by the public at the meeting.

In the presentation for Darene Investments Ltd., regarding the Shapiro site at the south end of the town, Mr. Hutton pointed out that it had superb access and did not see any danger of the quality of life being affected in the Grandin Avenue area by traffic noise if the development went ahead. On the contrary he said that the development would include, as well as the shopping facilities, an amphitheatre for fashion promotions, live theatre, swimming pool, day care and baby care centres, a covered bus terminal and tie in with rail and bus rapid transit.

He also said there would be a health spa, fitness centre and supervised creative play area in the shopping centre and less emphasis on "potted plants and waterfalls."

There would also be adequate provision for car parking on the site as well as park and ride facilities.

He said that those residents who were concerned about increased traffic noise as a result of the development should not worry as there were provisions for berming subsequent road widening and landscaping the whole development area. He said he expected people in the northwest sector of Edmonton would be attracted to the 700,000 square feet shopping centre as well as those in the St. Albert area.

During question time one St. Albert resident expressed concern at the possible increase of traffic and people St. Albert would see if the development went ahead. He said we were now being asked to vote all these people out here when we paid high taxes to get away from the hurly-burly. Mr. Hutton countered by saying that increases in mass rapid transit facilities, by bus and rail might well alleviate the kind of problems the resident spoke of. He also said that if the centre were to attract the larger department stores, "one must also attract the people from part of Edmonton."

Another resident said he failed to be convinced of developing the centre on the south side of town. "How are you to bring 50,000 people from the north side of town (in the future) without hardships?"

Chairman for the night Mr. K. Easson said the resident should restrict himself to talking about the location being proposed, not about the location of other sites and associated problems.

The meeting ended with Mr. Polonuk saying that he would be happy to participate with the town if the site he proposed was worthy of investigation "at our cost."

Workshops scheduled for St. Albert High on Nov. 22

The teachers of St. Albert Catholic School District #3 and the St. Albert Parish Kindergarten will be attending an institute on November 22 at St. Albert High School and all schools and the kindergarten within the district will be closed for the day. A program under the direction of Mr. Emile Mandin has been planned on a workshop basis and topics of immediate concern will be examined.

There is little doubt that children in school will graduate into a metric world. The decision to go metric has been made for the sake of international trade and communication, computational efficiency, coherent interrelationships simplifying and standardizing sizes and price comparisons. The following target dates have been established by sector committees of the Canadian Metric Commission:

April 1, 1975 - Temperature in Celsius.

Sept. 1975 - Precipitation and snowfall - rain in m.m. snow in c.m.

April 1977 - National buildings Code should incorporate metric units.

Jan. 1977 - Export sales of grain.

Feb. 1, 1977 - Receiving and shipping from country elevators.

For the above reasons a significant number of teachers will be involved in a metric workshop conducted by Mr. Jim Jefferies, Edmonton Regional Office, Mr. Melvin Bosch, Albert LaCombe School and Mr. Marcel Arnaud, Vital Grandin School.

The interest is to provide background information on the metric system to aid the implementation stages.

Workshops will also be held in the following areas: Outdoor Education Religion, Junior High Language Arts, Social Studies, Phys. Ed., Oral Communication and Use of Video Tape. An arts and crafts program organized by the St. Albert Parish Kindergarten is also available to teachers within the school district.

The cost for the workshop of approximately $400 will be shared jointly by the sub-local Teachers Professional Development Committee and the School Board of St. Albert District #3.

Role of teacher to be discussed at information evenings

The St. Albert Parish Kindergarten in co-operation with St. Albert School District #3 is planning to hold a number of information evenings for the purpose of demonstrating the teacher's role in the development of the WHOLE child. The following areas will be covered during the course of the year:

- Behavioral changes - social and emotional
- Physical development
- Auditory skills
- Visual Skills
- Language development
- Creative and imaginative expression

Attention span
Motivation for learning
Intellectual development
The first in a series of meetings of this type will be held on November 21 at Father Jan Junior High School at 8 p.m. sharp. Miss Anna Sebza and Mrs. Joan Jacobs will explain their involvement in the development of the child's physical, emotional and social growth. Slides taken in all the kindergarten classrooms will be used to illustrate various aspects of the program.

If you wish to learn more about how children develop feelings about themselves and others, mature socially and how physical development aids perception and other intellectual skills, plan to attend this information evening.

A report will be given by the chairman of the Local Advisory Board Mr. Jerry Manegre and a question and answer period will follow. A coffee will be served and the program should last approximately two hours.

If you have neighbours or friends who will have children entering kindergarten next term, please bring them along.

No. 6 Board turns down suggested PR committee

Mr. Bill Webber, chairman, opened the meeting of the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District No. 6 at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School on Wednesday, Nov. 13. The board gave consideration to a date and agenda for a meeting to be held with the trustees of District No. 3 for the purpose of discussing common problems. November 18 was put forward as a suggested date and agenda items will include school opening dates, vandalism and the possibility of programs maintained on a mutual basis.

Standing committees were selected as follows: Finance Committee, W. Webber; Buildings and Property, D. Munro and S. McCaffery; CUPE Negotiating Committee, M. MacFarlane and D. Munro; ATA Negotiating Committee, W. Webber and Dr. W. Cuts; Interpretation and Review, Dr. Cuts and W. Webber; Education Committee of the whole D. Munro, chairman; Sabbatical Leave, S. McCaffery and M. MacFarlane.

Mr. Webber moved to an agenda item concerning the recovery of vandalism costs. In recent years, the board have seen an increase of property damage due to vandalism. During the past summer, window damage to the value of $1,000 occurred at Robert Rundle School and letters were sent to parents requesting that they notify the authorities if they witness any incidents of vandalism. District 6 Maintenance Shop was broken into and vandalized several items and the RCMP apprehended and charged five juveniles in connection with the offences. Dr. Cuts moved that the subject of recovering vandalism costs be left open and the motion was carried.

The completion date for the construction of the Lacombe Park Community Core School was discussed in connection with the approval of a contract between the district and Bennett and White Construction. Mr. G. Hargreaves, secretary treasurer recommended that the contract be approved subject to a satisfactory completion date. The contract presently indicates a completion date of August 31, 1975 but the trustees were of the opinion that an earlier date is necessary. Dr. Cuts moved approval of the contract subject to the completion date being changed to August 1, 1975 and the motion was carried.

Mrs. Shirley McCaffery submitted a recommendation that the board establish a public relations committee to study communication within the district and make recommendations to the board on all aspects of public relations. The background to Mrs. McCaffery's recommendation was that during the recent election there had been a great deal of public comment and criticism regarding lack of effective communication between the board and the public. Many people felt that the board has not been approachable and that public input has not been encouraged by the board. These same opinions had been voiced at the charette held two years ago. Mrs. McCaffery urged the board to avoid making possible a situation which now exists in certain southern U.S. states where the absence of effective communication led to the imposition of legislation severely limiting the authority of these boards. She also commented on the importance Education Minister Lou Hyndman attached to the boards maintaining good communications. Mrs. McCaffery's recommendation covered many ways in which communication could be improved with the public, the media and other elected bodies.

Mr. Webber felt another committee would be too much for the board to accommodate.

Mrs. McCaffery replied to the effect that public relations is a priority item, more so than some of the other subjects covered by committees, and she pointed out that a few committees meet perhaps only once a year.

Mr. Webber did not disagree that public relations were important but did not see the need for a committee.

Mrs. McCaffery considered that the board should actively encourage the public to attend board meetings.

Dr. Cuts maintained that the annual general meeting provided an adequate forum for the public to make known its views and he commented that these meetings were poorly attended in any case.

Mrs. McCaffery felt that this serves to demonstrate the need to enhance the board's public relations.

The recommendation was put to the vote and defeated.

Those in favour were S. McCaffery and D. Munro; those against, W. Webber, M. MacFarlane and Dr. Cuts.

Despite doubts expressed by Mr. MacFarlane concerning costs, the board approved a recommendation presented by Mrs. Muriel Martin, assistant superintendent, to provide assistance to parent-operated kindergartens. To facilitate the smooth operation of early childhood programs, the board will assist in the hiring of personnel, ordering supplies, duplicate paper materials, lend audio-visual equipment when school programs are not affected, and assist in program evaluation. Mrs. Martin has already been active in providing assistance in the hiring of teachers, much of this work being carried out in her own time.

Liberals to nominate in mid February

St. Albert Constituency Liberals will select their candidate for the next provincial election at a mid-February nominating convention to be held in the Town of Legal. This was decided at a meeting held November 6 of the constituency executive and members.

Bob Russell, who carried the Liberal banner in 1967 and 1971 announced that he would not be a candidate for re-nomination. He cited the "pressures of business and responsibilities to his family" as reasons for not contesting the nomination.

Constituency President Dick Wheatley, who heads up a five man nominating committee, said that he expected a contested nomination. "We have three people at this time who are interested in running for the Liberal nomination and we expect to give the Conservatives a real battle in this constituency."

The actual date for the convention will be decided by the nominating committee following a review of available locations and dates for Legal.

District 6 orders 8 portable classrooms

St. Albert School District #6 received the green light from the school buildings branch of the Provincial Government for the purchase of eight portable classrooms. These classrooms are for the new core school in Lacombe Park. A tender of $157,750 from Gendall Industries Ltd. was the lowest of four bids. Other bids were: Atco Industries $147,688 (Fed. Sales Tax Not Included); Portabuilt Industries for $163,578 and Altarcite Building Systems for $199,400. The portable classrooms are to be initially located at: Leo Nickerson (2); Sir Alexander Mackenzie (2); Lacombe Park Site (4).

Provincial Government support price on portable classroom space is $17 per square foot which became effective July 1, 1974 an increase of $2.50 per sq. ft. over January 1, 1974. School District #6 will pick approximately $20,000 as their share of the total cost of the contract bid.

Supervisor of the course Annette Hauptman told the Gazette: "Monday that people have to slim in the first place because they eat too many carbohydrates, which make you fat. But they also make you hungry!"

So the secret to slimming and not over-eating is to cut down on carbohydrates and concentrate instead of eating protein foods like greens, fruit and fish.

District 3 discusses building costs with MLA

St. Albert School District No. 3 met on Tuesday, November 12. Having brought the meeting to order, Mr. Steve Sieben, board chairman, moved a vote of thanks to the outgoing chairman, Mr. Ernie Howrish. He then proceeded to ask the trustees to volunteer for the standing committees. The following trustees were appointed to serve as indicated: Mr. Steve Sieben, policy committee and school sites committee; Mrs. Sylvia Walsh, policy, school sites, and awards and scholarships committees; Mrs. Elsie Lockert, joint use committee and ASTA Zone 2 representative; Mr. Ernie Howrish, finance and salary negotiations committees; Mr. Peter Freeman, finance and salary negotiations committees.

St. Albert MLA, Ernie Jamison attended the meeting at the request of Dr. W. G. Zielinski, superintendent. His presence at the meeting was for the purpose of listening to the problems the board is currently experiencing and to obtain at first hand a feel for the members' concerns. One of the items which poses a major problem for the trustees is the escalating cost of school construction. Unsupported costs are very heavy and examples were given of a school building in Whitecourt costing $45 a square foot and an addition in Sherwood Park costing $35 a square foot. With government funding at its present level of $24.50 a square foot, new school construction costs impose an almost impossible financial burden on school districts. Mr. Jamison commented that there would be a closer look at the time of tendering. The government would like to see tendering take place throughout the year rather than see too many tenders condensed into a short period during each year, under the present Alberta situation there is a shortage of manpower and prices escalate.

Another concern of the board was that at an earlier meeting with Mr. Jamison, the board had requested and received advice on the possibility of collecting the supplementary requisition for schools from the Town of St. Albert. To this point, District No. 3 had not received a decision from the town. Mr. Jamison said that the board is entitled to collect these taxes from the town. He also suggested that the board appoint a trustee to act as a liaison officer with the town council and thus be fully aware of growth development in the town.

Under the heading of Superintendent's Report, Dr. Zielinski brought forward a suggestion that the district appoint an information officer whose responsibility would be to inform the media on school and district happenings. He felt that perhaps an official from Central Office could act as information officer with the possibility of a trustee editing the information put out. Some discussion among the board members followed. Mr. Howrish thought the proposal an excellent idea and Mr. Freeman agreed the concept with the exception that trustees should not be involved in editing as this was really a form of censorship. Mrs. Walsh held the same viewpoint as Mr. Freeman in connection with the editing. Mr. Freeman moved that an information officer be appointed to co-ordinate and provide information to the media and parents and the motion was carried. George Soetaert has since taken up this appointment.

Mr. Ted Baldwin, secretary treasurer, announced that the new community core school presently under construction in the Braeside area is on schedule. He also read out a letter from Mr. V. J. Maloney expressing his pleasure that the new school would be named the Vincent J. Maloney School after him.

Mr. George Soetaert informed the board that an institute for all teachers in the school district and kindergartens will be held on November 22. For the elementary teachers, the program will include metrication, arts and crafts and outdoor education.

Gateway Association reports progress

The Gateway Association for the Mentally Handicapped is a newly formed association operating in the St. Albert and District area. It has been expected in principle as a branch of the Alberta Association for the Retarded and is striving to be an active group on behalf of the mentally retarded in this area. They seem to be succeeding.

The group states three priorities which are: mandatory education for all mentally retarded regardless of grade or ability, early childhood education for all mentally handicapped regardless of grade or ability, and residential care such as crisis centres and other types of care which can be utilized.

Mrs. Gloria Shade, spokesman for the association, states that Gateway is concerned with St. Albert and District and also parts of Edmonton where gaps exist in the program for the mentally retarded. "We have already started to work on a recreational program between St. Albert and Edmonton . . . we are trying to gather people together for a program of worth for all," Mrs. Shade explained that a committee is working on this project which has generated interest from the recreation departments in both the City of Edmonton and the Town of St. Albert.

Other working committees are not as active as the recreation committee but are nonetheless in progress.

Mrs. Shade reports that the committee working on the mental care is preparing a brief to be presented to the government in January. The education committee is preparing at this time for a spring seminar which will be located in the area.

"The biggest need," says

Mrs. Shade, "is for people to come forward and indicate that support will be given to the program."

Two meetings have been held by the Gateway Association for the Mentally Handicapped and a third is scheduled for November 25 at the Clubhouse at 7:30 p.m.

Deaf being accepted into society

In the past, society's solution to the problem of the deaf was to place them in institutions. But now the deaf are slowly being helped to integrate into society in more acceptable ways.

Two people who are taking advantage of the better opportunities for the deaf in Edmonton are Jean Hetherington and Macklin Young. Jean, a student at Grant MacEwan Community College is involved in a pilot project set up between the College and the Department of Advanced Education to discover whether it would be feasible to incorporate a full time program for the deaf at the College.

Macklin has found a spot for herself at the U of A where he is taking several courses in Educational Psychology leading to certification as a counsellor for the deaf. Macklin is one of the few deaf people who has ignored his handicap in such a way as to take in a course at an established centre of learning.

Doctor Paul Otke, head of the Community College's Applied Arts Division says: "Ultimately we are considering the establishment of a full program for the deaf, but we aren't sure of what problems we are going to run into. We don't know if we'll need special equipment, or have to restrict the programs we will allow deaf students to enroll in. We hope Jean's experience at the College will enable us to get some of the answers. That way we will learn from her while she acquires her education."

Both Jean and Macklin attend classes using an interpreter, but Macklin points he isn't lucky enough to have a full time interpreter. "I have to rely on volunteers," he says.

Like many other deaf people in Edmonton, Jean and Macklin can get help from the Alberta School for the Deaf. They can also get very personalized help from Reverend Robert Bauer of Edmonton's Cross of Christ Lutheran Church for the Deaf.

He has been working with the Deaf population of Alberta for 19 years.

He says the deaf people are beautiful and sensitive and have accepted their limitations. They don't consider themselves handicapped because of the ease with which they communicate with other deaf people. The problem is with the hearing public. They are reluctant to be around deaf people because they become embarrassed and frustrated in trying to overcome the communications barrier. Often they just turn away, rather than try to overcome it, Mr. Bauer explains.

An immediate release from the Consumers Association of Canada:

Parents beware of purchasing used children's car seats through garage sales, flea market sales etc.

Regulations governing the safety of child automobile restraints and hence the design of these "car seats" over the past three years. Current devices on the market are truly child safety restraints and not just "car seats." Older types of seats such as hook-over models or models which use the adult seat belt to restrain the child are illegal and can actually increase the chance of serious injury to a child in a collision.

If you must purchase a used safety restraint, please make your decision an informed one, urges the Consumers' Association of Canada. Alberta Provincial Association. For information on child safety restraints contact your nearest C.A.C. branch or the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs offices in Edmonton.

Montreal salon tastes Alberta beef

A taste of Alberta Beef and Western Hospitality will mark Alberta's first participation in the annual International Salon of Food and Agriculture in Montreal.

"Alberta - Beefland Canada" was the theme of the entry in the famous salon, scheduled from Oct. 29 to Nov. 3rd.

Visitors to the salon in Place Bonaventure will be invited to sample delicious morsels of Alberta Beef. While this may turn out to be the most popular feature of Alberta's exhibit, a generous serving of other activities will also inform and entertain guests.

Alberta's "Wild West"

entry to the salon's parade brightened the streets of Montreal. A chuckwagon and stagecoach were featured, along with a hay rick topped with a western-style band.

Happy Barlow, queen of the 1974 Calgary Stampede, lead the entry accompanied by her two attendants, on matched horses lent by the Montreal Mounted Police. Ten outriders from Alberta and Quebec rode mounts supplied by the Quebec Quarterhorse Association.

Harold Hanna, assistant Deputy of Minister of Marketing, represented Minister of Agriculture Dr. Hugh Horner, at a trade reception at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

St. Albert only a safe place one hour per day

St. Albert is only a safe place one hour after "The National" starts on CBC at 11 p.m.

After that and before, it is fraught with danger.

That is one of the findings revealed in the Annual report of St. Albert's Safety Council released November 14 at the second annual meeting of the council. The report will be made available to the Provincial Government.

The report also contradicts the provincial consensus that motor vehicle accidents are the main cause of death and injury in Alberta. For, in St. Albert anyhow, "falling" accidents are the main cause of injury and accidents in motor vehicles are only fifth on the list.

Chairman of the St. Albert Safety Council Gord Goodman told the Gazette, Nov. 14 that out of 1,799 accidents analysed in St. Albert and district from January 1, 1973 to December 31, 1973, only one happened between the time period 11 p.m. to midnight. After that the accident rate was heavy.

The report also showed that in ages 5 - 10 were holy terrors between the hours of 3 p.m. - 6 p.m. and girls 10 - 15 were not much better.

Mr. Goodman claimed that St. Albert was the first town in Canada to locate these problem areas. He said the statistics were obtained from the records of the Sturgeon General Hospital (referring to the 1,799 accidents).

He pointed out that some discrepancies and ambigu-ities do not relate other totals to the 1,799 figure quoted above.

Nevertheless the breakdown of injuries in St. Albert over the year covered by the annual report make interesting reading. All the following accidents warranted hospital attention.

435 collisions (people being knocked by, or knocking into objects); 439 "fallings"; 405 sporting injuries, (hockey, soccer, etc.); 78 involving machinery and hand tools, 29 through ingestion of poison.

77 explosions and fires, 161 people being bitten by dogs or other animals, 143 vehicle accidents and 22 miscellaneous.

Other statistics showed that there were 771 accidents in the home, 190 on private property, 188 on farms, 53 in schools, 69 involving youngsters playing on the street and 45 miscellaneous.

Other statistics showed the largest number of accidents occurred in the 20-35 age group with 468, the 10 - 20 age group following with 441, 35 and up with 318, the 5 - 10 age group with 301 and last but not least the 0 - 5 group showing 139 casualties.

During the second annual meeting of the council Mr. Goodman tendered his resignation as chairman after a two year stint in that position with Jane Nelson taking over. Stan Mills was renominated as vice-chairman. Sharon Evans takes over as secretary treasurer following the resignation of Mrs. Jackie Keith.

Two representatives from Town Hall attended the meeting. They were Town Administrator Robert Byron and Councillor Rod Thronson.

The Annual Report also outlined the fact that the St. Albert Safety Council has done much to make the town safety conscious, even if the facts might point to the converse. They have put many safety courses on in town, with displays on safety in the shopping mall and have always been happy to give talks on safety to those in the community who have asked for them.

The council has also done much to make safety improvements in St. Albert liaising closely with town council.

Those wishing to contact the Safety Council for further information about its activities should phone 459-3466 and 459-3914.

Albert Lacombe School Toy & Skate Sale

On Tuesday, November 26 from 6:30 - 9 p.m. Albert Lacombe Elementary School will be holding an event that they believe to be a first for St. Albert - a used toy and used skate sale.

The sale will be organized along the lines of a flea market - with the school providing the place for buyer and seller to meet and arrange their own deal.

Admission will be 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for children and the profits will be used for the school outdoor education fund and/or sports equipment fund.

This is an excellent opportunity to clear out your toy cupboards and sell the toys that are no longer being used.

Outdoor skating will be starting soon so if you need a larger pair of skates come to the sale and sell your old pair and see if there is a good used pair that fits you. Both figure skates and hockey skates are welcome (also used hockey equipment).

Sellers are requested to have the selling price marked on all their items in advance (eg. with masking tape). A suggested guideline to pricing is ¼ to ½ (or less) depending upon condition.

All types of toys are welcome: games of all kinds, road racing sets, train sets, dolls (eg. Barbies, Big Jim, GI Joe etc.) and their accessories, Fisher Price toys, Child Guidance toys, Play-scool toys, cars and trucks, building toys (such as Lego etc.), baby toys. A mimeographed sheet of suggestions for salable items is available at the school. Remember a large number of sellers are needed to make it worthwhile for the buyers - so look around home for salable toys or outgrown skates.

For further information please phone the school at 459-3404. The school address is 50 Gainsborough Ave.

Comets move into top spot with 5-2 win over Westlock

St. Albert Comets split a pair of games last week in the nine-team Edmonton Central Hockey League, losing a 7-2 game Wednesday to Leduc Oilers and winning a 5-2 game Sunday in Westlock.

In other league play on Sunday, Barrhead Sabres shutout Leduc 1-0 and the Stony Plain Eagles and Sherwood Park Barons played to a 5-5 tie.

The win over Westlock was the second straight this season for the Comets who won the league opener 6-4. The win kept Comets in first place in the league standings, with a 7-2 record. Comets have only lost to Barrhead (4-2) and Leduc.

The Leduc Oilers game on Wednesday saw Comets open and close the scoring but unfortunately the Oilers scored seven in between. Rich Perrault scored St. Albert's first goal and Bob Beaulieu scored the second with only a minute left to play in the games. Penalties were costly for the Comets as they were shorthanded most of the time, taking 14 of 19 penalties.

Sunday evening in Westlock, Comets cut their penalties down to just seven and skated away with a well played 5-2 win with the line of Harvey Kirkland, Perry Pearn and Brian Stevens scoring four of the five goals.

The first period ended in a 1-1 tie as Pearn scored for the Comets and Roger St. Arnaud replied for the Eagles.

Stevens scored the only goal of the second with Kirkland and Bob Beaulieu assisting on the play.

Kirkland then put on a dazzling display in the first minute of the third period with two goals in 27 seconds. His first came with only 21 seconds played as Pearn and Stevens picked up the assists. The second came at the 48 second mark with Pearn helping out and gave Comets a 4-1 lead. Dwayne Klassen who is starting to play the kind of hockey Coach Dale Rippel predicted earlier in the season made it 5-1 at 14.55 to put the game out of reach.

Ex-U of A Golden Bear star Dwayne Bolkoway scored for the Eagles with less than two minutes to play in the game.

Comets next game will be Thursday night when they travel to Stony Plain for a game with the Eagles. On Friday the Comets are in Barrhead and Saturday will be in Fort Saskatchewan for their first game with the Huskies this season.

Comets won't be at home until December 1 when Fort Saskatchewan will be the opposition.

Combines drop first game of the season

The New Holland Combines coached by Al Laplante and Ed Rusnak lost their first game in four league starts Sunday as Leduc upset them 6-3.

Combines had earlier won over Sherwood Park 5-4 and 6-5 as well as a 7-5 win Saturday over Fort Saskatchewan. Combines play in the five team North Central Pee wee League.

Seven different players shared in the scoring in the win over the Fort as Troy Murray and Gary Kunz scored first period goals. Tim Schroeder, Claude Joly, Kevin Jackson and Ricky Gray scored in the second for a 6-3

St. Albert lead. Dale Weller scored the lone Combine goal in the final period. Troy Murray also picked up a pair of assists in the game.

Sunday the team travelled to Leduc and lost a 6-3 game as Leduc came up with five third period goals. Combines led 2-0 after the first 20 minutes on two goals by Brad Scott. Leduc scored the only goal of the second period and then tied the game early in the third period. Kevin Jackson scored for the Combines at 3:03 of the final period to put St. Albert back in the lead but four straight goals by Leduc was good enough for the win. Two of the four Leduc third period goals came on the power play.

Last Friday the Combines played an exhibition game in Stony Plain and took an easy 10-0 win. Kevin Jackson scored three goals while Paul Kelly and Troy Murray added a pair each.

Combines next home game will be Saturday, November 23 when Ardrossan will be here for a game starting at 5:45 p.m. Sunday they will be in the Fort starting at 11:30 a.m.

Legal wins Boat Races -Carl Royan honoured

The second annual Sturgeon Valley Senior Hockey League boat races were won by Legal Saturday night at the Morinville Recreation Centre before a sell out crowd.

Legal won a very close and exciting decision over defending champion Namao and Calahoo teams.

The races got underway at 9:40 with Namao taking out Gibbons in the first round. At 10:40 Legal beat Bon Accord and in the other match Calahoo scored a close win over Morinville. The finals were run off at 11:40 with the three winners and Legal as earlier mentioned scored a very close win.

Members of the Legal team were Bob Pelletier, Garnet Kaly, Ray De Champlain, Dennis Pelletier, Ray Pelletier, Lawrence Maurier, Dan Prefontaine, Paul Morrin and Claude

Namao was judged the best dressed team.

A highlight of the evening was a presentation from the league to Carl Royan and his charming wife Della. Carl has been the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Superintendent for the past three years and has contributed to the Sturgeon League in many ways. Master of ceremonies Larry Mitchell had MD Councillor Clayton Crozier present Carl with a plaque on behalf of the league while Mrs. Jean Crozier presented Mrs. Royan with a dozen red roses. Both were given a standing ovation.

Carl has accepted a new position in the recreation field and will be in the employ of G. R. Schelley and Associates of Edmonton but will be moved to Regina as the Regional Recreation Director. He will be greatly missed but promised to be in attendance at next year's races.

Also in for congratulations on league work was President Rene Leduc, secretary Paul Krauskopf and Laurent Coutombe who will be taking over Carl's old position on the recreation board.

Referees Art Sawchuk and Ken Kohut were the official judges and performed very well.

Dale MacMillan, a member of the Calahoo team won the door prize sponsored by the St. Albert Sports Shop. Old Dutch Potato Chips "Everybody's Favorite" supplied the snacks.

Next year's races will feature a ladies event which should prove very interesting. Dancing and a supper capped off a very entertaining night.

Lee rink wins ladies bonspiel

A most successful Cash-Spiel was run off on the weekend by the St. Albert Ladies Curling Club. Of the 32 rinks participating, many were sharp, competitive contingents honing their shots for the Pearls.

Good curling prevailed, with the Gayle Lee foursome from the Hillcrest Club taking top honours. With Gayle were third Jackie Spencer, second Anne McGarvey, lead Joan Cooper. Our own Ceille Como rink placed second in "A" with Ruth Wakal, Fort Sask., Kay Baldwin, Balmoral third and fourth, respectively.

"B" Event was capped by Connie Baker's Crestwood crew in a "draw to the last rock duel" with the Dorothy Sutton rink, St. Albert. Connie's third Sara Vague, second Carol Sherban, lead Jane Kennedy. Placing third in "B" Alice Kmech, Balmoral and fourth Vi Samis, St. Albert.

The "C" Event was won handily by the Marilyn Johnston St. Albert rink over Joyce Christenson of the Balmoral. Assisting Marilyn were her well known rink-mates Elaine Sauness, Irene Fielder and Marie Schultheiss. Jolly Drever, Crestwood and Bunny Porowski, St. Albert placed third and fourth.

Thanks and compliments to the social committee and helpers on a job well done. Thanks to Rac Kramer, many comments were passed on the good ice conditions. The winning money-doll ticket, drawn by Randy Fisher, was won by Bernice Cook.

Bruins win 6-4 over Stony take over second place

St. Albert Bruins moved into sole possession of second place in the six team Capital Junior Hockey League last Tuesday with an excellent 6-4 win over Glen Hall's Stony Plain Flyers. The win evened the Bruins season record at four wins and four losses.

Bruins also have the top four positions in the scoring race just released by league statistician Mike Parker. Bob Pearn leads the way with 13 points on six goals and seven assists while linemate Mike Pierce is only one point behind with one less goal. Gerry Vanthuyne has the most goals (7) on the team and holds down third spot with Gary Ferguson in fourth.

In the Flyer game at Stony Plain, the Bruins erupted for six first period goals and then held off the Flyers as they scored two in each of the last two periods. Bruins didn't take long to start things off as Doug Ferguson scored from Pierce with only 20 seconds gone in the game. Pearn made it 2-0 at 14:38 from Tim O'Neill. Defenseman Simon LaFrance playing only his third game drilled a shot from the point in at 15:50 with Matt Lister and Alex Jensen helping out on the play. Less than a minute later with both teams playing a man short, Garry Mann scored the first of two goals at 16:47 to give the Bruins a 4-0 lead. In the final minute Pierce scored and Mann popped in his second to give the Bruins a well deserved 6-0 lead and control of the game.

Flyers came back with two goals in the second period by Wayne Spychka and Roy Giesse and added the final twolate in the third period as Pat Hall and Darrell McDonald scored.

Bruin goaltender Carey Winquist played a steady game in goal for St. Albert while Alex Jensen played his best game of the season. It probably was due to the fact he did not take a penalty and was on the ice much more.

This fellow has as much or more potential as any player in the league and if he ever learns to control his temper he will go a long way in the game. Coach Ken Schwartz was more than pleased with his teams performance and feels the club is starting to play the hockey they are capable of.

Bruins will play in Sherwood Park this Friday night at 8:30 and a win over the Knights would help their cause out tremendously. Bruins next home game will be Tuesday, December 3 against the new Knights.

Sportshop Midgets win two of three games over weekend

St. Albert's Sportshop Barons picked up two wins in three outings in midget hockey on the weekend, defeating Stony Plain 4-1 and splitting with Enoch, winning 7-2 and losing 5-3.

The Barons skated hard in registering their 7-2 win over Enoch in Enoch Friday, and then backed it up with an even better performance Saturday in Stony Plain.

However, Sunday, back in St. Albert, the home town midgets ran into a red-hot Enoch goaltender and coupled with a lackadaisical performance from many of its senior members, were only in the game until the start of the second period.

Ron Sanders with two goals, and linemate Graham Brown with a single provided three of the Barons' goals against Enoch Friday. Defensemen Earl Evaniev and Mike Mitchell, and forwards Lloyd Olson and Rod Olsen played out singles.

Barons trailed 2-0 after the first period, but exploded for four unanswered goals in the second period, and then tied the win with three more in the third.

Barons also fell behind in Stony Plain Saturday, as the hometown midgets led 1-0 at the end of the first.

However the Barons fought back with three successive goals from Sanders and Evaniev and Don Wells, then scored the only counter of the final period.

when Dave Kieser scored on a blistering slapshot.

At home in the friendly confines of the Arena, the Barons opened scoring on a goal by Lloyd Olson, but found themselves in a tie three minutes later.

Tony Ring converted a pass from Blake Millroy with just 30 seconds remaining in the opening period, but Enoch stormed back in the second with two goals to take the lead 3-2.

With the Barons pressing in the third, but unable to score, Enoch scored after defenceman Earl Evaniev stepped on a broken stick at his own blueline and sprawled out to play, allowing Enoch to walk in on a three on nobody situation.

With just four minutes remaining and the Barons pressing, the St. Albert midgets ran into two consecutive penalties and Enoch made it 5-0 on a blistering slapshot from 30 feet out.

Gilbert Longpre fired a low drive with 35 seconds remaining in the period to narrow the count 5-3.

The Barons met Stony Plain at the Arena Friday, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Ski Clinic at Lake Eden

A provincial amateur ski instructor's clinic will be held November 29 through December 1 at Lake Eden Ski Resort near Edmonton.

The clinic, sponsored by Alberta Culture, Youth and Recreation and the Canadian Ski Instructors' Alliance, Alberta Division, is open to all over 18 and having basic skills in parallel skiing.

Instruction will be given by qualified members of the Alliance holding senior and Canadian ski instructor ratings.

Deadline for registration -- fee $18 -- is November 21. Further information and applications forms can be obtained from sport development supervisor Marlene Kurt, Alberta Culture, Youth and Recreation, 14th Floor CN Tower, Edmonton, 429-6621.

Enrollment in the clinic will be limited, based on applicants' geographic location and community involvement, and early applications are advised.

Lake Eden Resort is 22 miles west of Edmonton on Highway 16.

On Saturday, November 30, and Sunday, December 1, the St. Albert Figure Skating Club will host the Edmonton Zone, Sub-Section Competition at the St. Albert Arena. This unique event will be a "first" for our local club.

Unlike the Club's annual spring carnival in which only club members participate, the sub-section competition will bring to the town of St. Albert, competitive skaters who have qualified for such an event by passing a succession of test levels, figures and free skating. The highest test is the 8th or gold test, though the skaters participating here in St. Albert have reached up to the 10th test level.

This is a lower level ladies elimination competition to select the entrants who will compete with skaters from all over Alberta and North West Territories for the Section Championships to be held in Edmonton on December 12, 13 and 14. Finalists from this event compete at the Western Divisional Championships. Divisional winners then compete at the Canadian Figure Skating Championships.

Eighty-five competitors from 10 Edmonton city clubs and skaters from clubs in Namao, Sherwood Park and St. Albert, will be at our St. Albert Arena during the hours of 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, November 30 and from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday, December 1. Saturday's program will include the "compulsory figures" portion of the competition, while the "free style" events will take place on Sunday. Perhaps the general public might find Sunday's program of greater general interest.

There is no admission charge and the St. Albert Figure Skating Club invite St. Albert residents to come to the arena to see ice skaters at their very best.

Paul Kane Volleyball News

Saturday, November 9 was the first in three volleyball tournaments hosted by Paul Kane High School. Sixteen teams (8 girls and 8 boys) were involved in a round robin volleyball tournament. In the boys final Fort Saskatchewan went down to A.B. Jordan two games straight (15-8; 15-11) straight. In the girls final, Westlock beat Edson with a tie breaking third game 15-9.

Saturday, November 16 was a busy day at Paul Kane High School. Sixteen teams from 10 schools competed in a round robin volleyball tournament. In the boys final Paul Kane defeated Westlock 15-7 and 15-9 and in the girls final Westlock again met defeat in a close match with Georges P. Vanier from Morinville. Morinville lost 9-13, but came back to win the other two 15-13, 15-9.

This was the second consecutive tournament hosted by Paul Kane. A third is scheduled to get under way this weekend and will be held once again at Paul Kane. The tournament kicks off at 9 a.m. Saturday, with Stony Plain, St. Albert High and Paul Kane participating. This tournament is the conference finals, and the winners will proceed to the zone finals November 30.

Spectators are once again welcome to come and support their favorite teams competing. Admission for the entire day is $50, and a concession will be set up.

Public opinion asked in divorce settlements

Rural Albertans particularly are being asked how they think the property of husbands and wives should be legally distributed if the marriage is dissolved by death or divorce.

Opinion-seeking questions have been set out in a pamphlet prepared by the Institute of Law Research and Reform at the University of Alberta. Responses to the questionnaire, and briefs related to the Institute's more detailed "Working Paper on Matrimonial Property" are being requested by the Alberta Women's Bureau, a provincial government body under the jurisdiction of Hon. Helen Hunley. The pamphlet suggests that Alberta's law reform agency wants to hear citizens' views on matrimonial property distribution "before it asks the government to change the law."

Personal opinions can be expressed by responding to the questionnaire's hypothetical case where "Marsha and John who could be a couple in your neighborhood ... no longer get along well and decide to part ways."

Legally John is entitled to the property they have acquired since he has earned the money to pay for it, but the Institute invites respondents who think Marsha should get a share, to "help us decide how to make the law fairer."

Many of the questions centre on the status of the family home. If John owns the family home and wants to sell it now that he and Marsha have separated, should Marsha and the children be allowed to stay in the family home if they cannot rent a house like it nearby?

Another supposes that the family home is owned by John and Marsha together and is actually a farm, which the couple will divide in half.

Volunteers wanted to finish senior citizens rec. center

The St. Albert Women's Institute wants volunteers to help finish off the interior and exterior of the Senior Citizens Recreation Centre on Tache Street.

Secretary of the W.I. Lorraine Moore told the Gazette Monday that cedar sidings had been put on the centre last Saturday, but the outside still has to be completed.

Mrs. Moore said that volunteers were now needed from the community to help finish both the inside and outside of the new building. She said that volunteers with trades like carpentry would be greatly appreciated.

The Knights of St. Columbus are working on the electrical and plumbing at the centre. It is expected the centre will open December 15th.

Mrs. Moore said the centre will be open to all the senior citizens of St. Albert and District once it is ready. A $20,000 Centennial grant was awarded to help finish the project.

Lost bikes lie unclaimed in St. Albert

Lost bikes are piling up at the RCMP Building, St. Albert and hardly anyone is coming in to claim them an RCMP spokesman told the Gazette Monday.

Twenty-five bikes, from trikes to 10 speed racing machines are stacked in the garage at the back of the RCMP building on the St. Albert Trail and they've been there for the past two months.

RCMP are requesting parents in St. Albert, and anyone who loses a bike to give more accurate descriptions of the machines as in many cases, RCMP say, descriptions given do not tally with the machine in RCMP custody.

But even if St. Albert police succeed in getting rid of their bike backlog a recent change in the Provincial Government's Municipal Act may cause them further inconvenience.

Under the old law, lost bikes would be kept by the RCMP and if they were not claimed after 30 days, they would be given to the town for auction. Now, under a recent change in the Municip-pal Act regarding ownership of lost bicycles, the finder of the machine can claim it as his own if the original owner does not come and claim it within the 30 day period.

A spokesman for the RCMP in St. Albert told the Gazette that this could be very awkward if the original owner finds someone riding his or her bike around town. Under the change in the law, there is not much the original owner can do about getting the bike back, as both the RCMP and the finder are acting within the law.

Another problem which RCMP could be faced with and which they and parents should be aware of. Under the change in the law there is nothing to stop the common thief stealing a bike, taking it to the RCMP as lost property and then coming to claim it as his own 30 days later.

Perhaps this will make those who lose their bikes more conscientious about claiming them in the future.

How 1975 is shaping up

The possibility of a severe recession for Canada can't be ruled out entirely, but the current state of economic forecasts suggests it's not likely.

What's envisaged now, to judge by recent predictions, is a period of slow to nonexistent growth in economic activity through the next few months with new strength emerging by the second half of 1975. A review of eight detailed economic forecasts shows that the calls from the experts on next year's real GNP growth range from a low of 1.2% to a high of 3.7%. These rates unfortunately almost guarantee a fairly pronounced rise in the jobs rate -- to an average of 6.2% - 7.2% in 1975, depending on the forecast -- from this year's likely average of close to 5.5%. Whether the slowdown also guarantees a winding-down of inflation is less certain. Forecasters are not predicting that inflation will be worse one year from now but, with an eye to wage-push pressure, they're not predicting much improvement either.

Administrators Report examined by council

A large quantity of information was contained in the Monthly Report from the Administrator which was examined at the council meeting held on Monday, November 18.

The portion titled "Building Inspector's Report" the situation in the town is summarized "the number of new residential building permits continue to decline due to market conditions."

The section dealing with the activities of the Fire Department, nine calls are indicated for the Town (a total of 110 for the year), and five calls are indicated for the MD (a total of 20 for the year). The estimated loss due to fires is $1,500 during the month of October in St. Albert.

The Police Department indicate that there were 32 motor vehicle accidents during October. Also reported is that 11 persons were injured. Fifty-one cases of breaking and entering are reported for the month. Seven charges of impaired driving are reported along with three cases of possession of narcotics. Illegal possession of liquor charges total 14 for October. A total of 366 complaints were received by the Department.

Mr. Maandag was asked to provide information regarding the annual water supply amounts with conversion to rough population equivalent at an earlier meeting. The Town Engineer reported in the document that a population of 25,000 people can be supported by 1950 gallons per minute the City of Edmonton is to supply. Mr. Maandag advised that recognizing these projections take into consideration average demands the possibility exists, subject to rationing for extreme demands, to serve a population of 27,000 persons before the Town is hooked into the City's new northwest water main expected to be in by approximately

Under "Current Status of Matters Outstanding" the Recreation Director is reported feeling that a quarterly recreation calendar would be useful to the community combined with use of the community access TV channel. An information sheet for new residents is reported to have made no progress due to higher priorities. The fact sheet was to summarize pertinent facts about the town and bylaw regulations to be distributed by Welcome Wagon.

Information on taxi bylaws have been assembled awaiting the commencement of a study to determine suitable regulations which might be incorporated to regulate taxi cabs operating within the Town.

Other matters were contained in the 24 item list of "Matters Outstanding."

The Building Inspector reports that 35 permits were granted during the month of October (521 to date) for single family dwellings. Four permits were granted during the month for Condominiums (98 to date). Thirty-one permits were granted for garages (to date 190), one carport permit was issued (14 to date), and two single family dwelling extensions (12 to date).

Information was also included in the Administrators Report regarding the Street Improvement Program. The grant is $20,000 plus $20 per capita payable once within a five year period which expires March 31, 1978. Applications are received on a first come, first serve basis. The Administrator recommended to council that the program be evaluated in February, 1975 which is after the census figures are known for that year. It was suggested by Coun. Breadner that the matter should be taken up earlier minding that delay could result in loss due to inflation.

Mayor Plain explained to the Administrator that a motion made by Coun. Lukay to receive information regarding the Street Improvement Program at an earlier time was in view of the fact that the new council will be attempting to put forward an agenda by the month of February.

Coun. Lukay made a motion that the matter regarding the Street Improvement Grants and Mayor Plain stated that this was necessary because the budget is hoped to be completed by February. The motion passed 4 to 3, Coun. Fyfe, Smith and Wetsch voted against.

Accent on Akins

By Carolyn Seitz

Friday, November 1st, students of Lorne Akins Junior High School celebrated the hallowe'en ghouls and goblins with a belated dance. Rob Christie of CHED, part of the package deal of music, jokes and free records, was the D.J. for the night, and he got everything moving for the variety of creatures assembled in the gym. Winners throughout the evening were Leah Greathead, dressed as a haunted tree; Theresa Jones, as the lovable Bell Telephone; Ian Robertson, an imaginative Hagar the Horrible; and Brian Ferguson as a four-armed Spiderman.

Another student project, this one for the pleasure of another, is the school's foster child. Since last year, the students have been sending Choi Nam Kil, and her family, money made through student projects, such as, the recent Penny Race. The students plan many other activities throughout the year.

Descendent of ancient people in Edmonton

TED ENGEL

REGINALDO TIPOL

Residents of the Great Northwest and Western Canada provinces will have the unusual opportunity this month to meet a descendent of the ancient Maya peoples of Central America, a nation which once boasted a proud culture that ruled from writing down the ancient spoken tongue of his people and how tribesmen are learning to read it.

The native speaker is Reginaldo Tipol. He is the language informant helping a Canadian couple learn the difficult Pocomchi dialect. Ted and Gloria Engel of Swift Current, Sask. The Engels are Lutheran Bible Translators working with the Instituto Linguistico de Verano, the Central American Branch of the Summer Institute of Linguistics.

The Engels and their Guatemalan friend will speak at dinner rallies in Alberta including the Edmonton area, on November 21 at the Holiday Inn, 107 Street and 100 Avenue beginning at 7 p.m.

Bible Translator Engel was born in East Germany from which he fled as a youth and emigrated to Switzerland.

Engel's background in horticulture, (his specialty is orchids), and an interest in archeology led him to visit the Mexican jungles in 1959. What he saw made him want to come back. He learned 400 Latin American tribes had no written form of their spoken languages and no Christian Scriptures. Engel returned to Canada for further study and he enrolled in the University of North Dakota for intensive linguistics training. Both husband and wife went back to the classroom and received basic survival training at Las Casas at the Jungle Camp maintained by Wycliffe Bible translators near the Mexico-

Guatemala border.

In 1969 Engels were assigned to Guatemala. Here Ted introduced the international phonetic alphabet and began literacy work with the Pocomchi tribe. As portions of the New Testament story were translated, response by the Maya descendants was immediate. Some weeks as many as a dozen Indians disclosed their intentions of becoming Christians. The movement grew faster than Engels had ever anticipated.

In north central Guatemala where 34,000 Pocomchi tribesmen had been in worshipers before and witch doctors regulated the everyday lives of the people and only one rural hamlet had any believers, namely in San Cristobal, where Engels lived, the Christian awakening has spread to 15 other areas. Native speakers like Reginaldo, his assistant and four other native evangelists walk the countryside and visit the towns. Recently, in one day, as many as 116 Indians announced they would be Christians.

The Engels share in the common life of the people. They live on a small two acre finca or farm in a native adobe house.

The public is invited to the dinner rallies. Reservations for the complimentary affairs may be made by contacting local reservation secretaries.

In Edmonton, these are Mrs. Dolores Ritter, 476-2730 Mrs. Melba Willie, 489-6676; Mrs. Sharon Candy, 469-8689 Mrs. E. Black, 489-4487.

Edmonton author gets good reviews

Of interest throughout northern Alberta is the appearance of a new book, "The Skating Party," which was written by Merna Summers of Edmonton.

"The Skating Party" is a collection of short stories, all set in a mythical town in northern Alberta, which the author has chosen to call "Willow Bunch." Miss Summers herself grew up on a farm near Mannville, in north-eastern Alberta. The book was written with the aid of a grant from the Ontario

Arts Council, and published by Oberon Press of Ottawa.

The stories deal with the kind of people that most people who have lived in rural areas know well; with old bachelors with problems of loneliness, with young men with dreams of glory, and with young girls growing up and learning that loving can hurt. The Toronto Globe and Mail has called the writing "brilliant," and other critics have found the stories "effective, funny and warm."

They have been cited for "their sensitive probing into the real workings of the prairie community of Willow Bunch, of family ties and the under-currents of love."

On the basis of her accomplishment with this book, the author recently was awarded a $4,000 grant by the Canada Council, to assist her in writing her next book. Miss Summers and her husband, Carl Leviston, live in Edmonton.

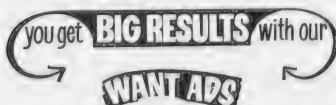

Copies of the book are available in Edmonton book and department stores.

Helpful farm publication

A publication entitled "Alberta Farm Business" will be sent to all farmers in the province this week by the Alberta Grain Commission. Commission Chairman John Channon, says the publication is designed to help farmers choose the marketing method best suited to their particular situation. It outlines the key features of all feed grain and oilseeds marketing alternatives, lists timely feed grain and oilseeds marketing alternatives, lists timely market information sources and discusses options open to purchasers.

"Alberta Farm Business" was prepared through the co-operation of Uniform, the Alberta Rapeseed Growers' Association, the University of Alberta and the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

St. Albert on Sturgeon Pot Pourri

Tonsils are being toned, toe-nails trimmed, shoes shined and lines learned. In the fall production of the St. Albert on Sturgeon Players again but this time with something a little different. A little wine and cheese.

entertainment, then you can round off the evening with coffee.

Mrs. Gladys Smith and her accompanist, Mrs. Florence Millan, have licked the dancers into shape while Mrs. Jean Hamilton and Mrs. Jillian Pilon were busy in the costume department.

All in all, Pot Pourri should be a very entertaining evening and it's all happening on November 29 at the Club Mocambo. See you all there at 8:30.

Hamper Bureau operating this Christmas

The Kinette Club of St. Albert is once again co-ordinating the operation of the St. Albert Christmas Hamper Bureau. This is a community project which requires participation to assure success.

Last year the bureau provided approximately 54 hampers to needy families in St. Albert, thus brightening the Christmas Holiday Season for many. An extra side effect of the program is giving those who contribute a sense of worth through sharing.

Once again, the program is in a large way dependent upon the generosity and kindness of the merchants in this community. The churches and schools, through their white gift service, contribute significantly. It is through their help that the Christmas Hamper Bureau is maintained and their contributions - either in the form of cash or material for inclusion in the hamper - are appreciated.

Those interested in the Christmas Hamper Bureau program should contact Mrs. Nomy Hite for further information (459-6131 or 459-8614). This is truly a community effort.

Mrs. Gladys Smith was running the members of the St. Albert on Sturgeon Players through the musical/dance routines which are slated for the program of the Pot Pourri to be held later this month when the Gazette photographer snapped this picture. The Pot Pourri will be held at the Club Mocambo on November 29, at 8:30.

HISTORIC EVENT AT MORINVILLE'S PARISH CHURCH LAST SUNDAY

Named a historic site just two months ago by the Provincial Government, Morinville's St. Jean Baptiste Church and Rectory were the scene of great celebrations Nov. 17.

For the historic site, which has a history going back to the times of the first pioneers in the Morinville District in 1891, was rededicated with a concelebrated mass, pomp and circumstance and accompanied with the peal of bells.

Minister of Culture, Youth and Recreation Horst Schmid was there to mark the occasion.

The church was packed with parishioners and old friends of the parish as the concelebrated mass was said by Bishop Raymond Roy of the St. Paul Diocese, Reverend G. H. Primeau, present parish priest, and Reverend Louis Viel of Morinville also Reverend Lucien Morrisette of Westlock.

Seven members of the St. Joseph Assembly of the Edmonton Knights of St. Columbus were present at the mass. They were Ed Savine and Jerry Leblanc of St. Albert, Normand Letourneal, Leo de Champlain and Leo Maurier of Legal and Romeo Boissonault of Morinville. The RCMP were also represented at the celebration. After the mass, commemorative speeches were delivered by town dignitaries members of the clergy and the Minister in the Morinville Recreation Centre. This was followed by a lunch in the Recreation Centre basement.

During an address at the concelebrated mass Father Primeau made a tribute to the pioneers and said that further improvements were slated for the church.

The organ and paintings in the sanctuary needed restoring and Father Primeau also hoped that it would be possible to have the whole front of the church, including the spire lit up for all to see.

Bishop Roy gave a sermon which credited the efforts of the early pioneers and their church which had been built for the "reconciliation of the people."

After the mass, everyone was invited to the Morinville Recreation Centre where emcee Alphonse Nobert opened the proceedings recalling that his own grandparents had lent a hand in building the church on the original site two miles west of town in 1891. Construction of the present church did not begin till 1907.

Mayor Art Stapleton said that today "we are the celebrants, but this could not have been brought about had it not been for the pioneers of years ago."

Mr. Schmid said that the provincial government had singled out the Morinville church as the first of three sites worthy of going into the annals of provincial history "because of the spirit the community had and still has." During his speech he gave a pair of cuff links to Father Primeau from the Provincial Government.

Bishop Roy said that all the St. Paul diocese wanted to thank Morinville for what they had done in the past 84 years.

Father Primeau expressed his thanks for those who had helped to make the day such a success and referring to the

RCMP who had attended the dedication ceremony he hoped they "would now be a little kinder to me on the highway."

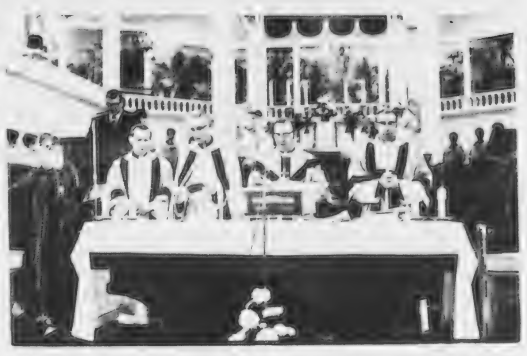

Also he pointed out that at the back of the hall was a plan which all could see, of the new senior citizens home slated for Morinville.

Finally Mr. Nobert presented the Minister with a sketch of the church drawn by Mrs. Rose Brochu, which made Mr. Schmid say, "this brings back many memories, you do not know what you are doing to me."

Before coffee and refreshments Grade 2 students from the Notre Dame elementary school sang, "The Entertainer" and "Do Re Mi."

Lector during the church service was Thomas Houle and parts of the mass were sung by the parish choir. Miss K. Weston directed the choir and the organist was Mr. N. Chailoux.

Ushers at the church service were Roger Blackburn, Octave Himschoot, Real Cormier and Eddie Bachand.

A SPECIAL CONCELEBRATED mass at the St. Jean Baptiste Church in Morinville November 17 marked the designation of the church as a registered historic site by the Provincial Government. Celebrating the special mass are from left: Father Louis Viel, Morinville parish priest Father G. Primeau, Bishop of the St. Paul diocese R. Roy and Father Lucien Morrisette of Westlock.

By Marilyn Pelletier
The annual general meeting for the Agricultural and Sports Association was held last Wednesday at the Recreation Centre. There were about 35 people present.

First on the agenda was the election of officers, and directors for the Agricultural Society for the coming year. Elected were: President, Lyle Kivell; vice-presidents - Ed Kryskow and Ross Quinn; secretary, Marilyn Rogers; treasurer, Shelly Parko. Past secretary Helen Schriever stepped down from her office and therefore did not seek re-nomination. We thank Helen for the great job she's done all year. Her efforts and contribution to the Agricultural Society is appreciated.

Directors for the coming year are: Doug Ramer, Bob Ringrose, Frank Vollmer, Mary Hittinger, Eugene Geoffroy, Howard Lamb, Doug Pezer, Tom Richards, Mike Pelletier and Jean Robinson.

A financial report was given by Doug Ramer, on both the Agricultural Society and Sports Association.

Ed Kryskow of the building committee gave a report on the progress of the new curling rink presently under construction. Things are coming along just fine despite a few delays on some of the materials required to complete the job.

Ed also gave an explanation as to the reason for the past on flooding the ice at the arena. Transformers used to create artificial ice, have not been delivered yet and it is hoped that they will arrive before Christmas or sooner, so that we can all enjoy a fine season of skating.

It was decided by those attending the meeting to disband the sports association, and have a sports committee under the Agricultural Society. A sports committee will be elected or appointed at a later date.

We understand the annual Face-Off dance was a great success. There were 250 people in attendance. The entertainment was provided by the Twilites from Redwater.

The Rifle Range in the arena is open for anyone interested in shooting on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The Royal Canadian Legion in Morinville is holding a Grey Cup party in the Legion Hall next Sunday, November 24, 1974. The admission price is $5 per person. Advance tickets only available from Legion members. Refreshments included. Watch the game in color. Prizes will be given on each quarter of the game.

A final reminder about the foster parents dance and banquet to be held on November 23 in the Legion Hall commencing at 6:30 p.m. For tickets call 256-3762 or 256-3847.

We understand Mr. Carl Royan has resigned as Sturgeon Regional Recreation Superintendent.

Glad to see that Lois Mulligan is home from the hospital. It seems that her room was like Grand Central Station while she was there.

Mrs. Marvin Thibault is still a patient in St. Albert Hospital. We were happy to see her home for the day on Sunday.

The Morinville Cubs and Scouts would like to thank all the residents who donated bottles for their recent drive. A special thanks goes out to all who gave of their time and vehicles.

On December 16 the Cubs and Scouts will hold a peanut drive. The boys will be visiting all homes in Morinville. The proceeds of this drive is used to send Cubs and Scouts to summer camps.

We are sorry to hear that

Mr. Harold Rockwell is a patient in St. Albert Hospital where he underwent surgery. Speedy recovery Harold.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kryskow will be leaving soon for Chatham, N.B., to attend the wedding of their son Randy on December 7, 1974. Kandy is with the Canadian Forces and stationed in Chatham. Following the wedding Ed and Anne will be taking a week off to go to Washington to see some hockey games. We understand they have a terrific arena there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kryskow and Mrs. F. Brenneis motored to Grande Cache for the weekend to visit friends.

The Senior Citizen Yoga

Exercise classes have just completed an eight week course and already there seems to be a good enrollment for the next four weeks.

By Dorothy Daignault
Attention Citizens - Mr. Laurent Coulombe will be at our Clubhouse November 26 at 8 p.m., to show all the pictures taken last June when we were on our Eastern tour.

The Senior Citizens of the Rendezvous Club held their annual meeting November 7 at 8 p.m. Thirty members were present. Five members were appointed to serve two years on the council. Those appointed were Hector Bois, sonneault, Harold Rockwell, Clarence Steffes, Theresa Kester and Dorothy Daignault.

HORSE HILL

Remember the Community League meeting Thursday, Nov. 28 at 8 p.m. in the kitchen, Villeneuve.

New Year's Eve party, continuous smorg $16, per couple. Dance to Peter's Star 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Watch for tickets at Horse Hills store and John's Store or phone 799-7401.

First Evergreen Cubs and Scouts wish to thank the Community for their support in their recent paper and bottle drive.

Mrs. Walter, Art teacher at Horse Hills school, is in need of old or broken mirrors to make Christmas decorations. If you have any please leave them for her at the school.

Morinville Library

The Library reference section is fairly well stocked with all kinds of books including several Encyclopedias - Britannica, Colliers and Comptons Children's Encyclopedia. The latter is very popular with students and widely used. Volumes of the Encyclopedias are for use in the library only and are not lent out. A missing volume is a disaster and this is what has happened with the Comptons Children's Encyclopedia. A Volume is missing!! Vol. 17 which is in the P-Q area. Will the student who has taken it home please return it, for the benefit of all students. Parents are reminded that they sign a card stating their responsibility for books borrowed by their school aged children. So will parents check to see if this volume is anywhere in their homes. Encyclopedias are very costly and much more so now.

On a lighter note, parents of pre-school children can now borrow Little Picture books with a special record which tells the story as the child turns the pages. Provided you have a record player. The library hopes to purchase a record player shortly and this collection of 24 books will be the beginning of a library of records which we hope to build up for the children.

Coronado News

A bingo will be held in the Community Hall Nov. 27 at 8 p.m. Admissions will be $1.00.

A general meeting of the Coronado Community will be held December 10 - 8 p.m., at the hall. All members and anyone interested are welcome.

Units 1 and 2 of the Coronado UCV's would like to extend a vote of thanks for all donations, and to all those who attended their fall supper.

Get well wishes going out to Mr. John Prince in Royal Alexandra Hospital.

The St. Albert NDP Association met in Gibbons on Thursday, Nov. 14, at the home of Earl Toane, who is the NDP candidate for the St. Albert riding. The NDP organizer, Larry Schowalter was present and outlined tentative plans for the expected election in 1975. Plans were made for the St. Albert constituency annual meeting to be held in St. Albert on January 9, 1975. At this meeting delegates will be selected for attendance at the NDP Provincial Convention which is to be held in Calgary on January 31, February 1 and 2, 1975.

NEW BOOKS FOR GIBBONS LIBRARY

At the regular meeting of the Gibbons Library Board held Tuesday, Nov. 12, in the Gibbons Library, Mrs. Pat Walsmsley, librarian, reported the purchase of many new books soon to be on the shelves, also more than a hundred books acquired from the Edmonton Library. Remember, that if there is any special book you want, the Gibbons Library can get it for you. This weekend will be a busy one with the judging of pictures and essays from the Gibbons Elementary school on the occasion of Canada Book Week. The theme of the contest was the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and next Friday the prizes in each class will be presented at school by an RCMP. All pictures and essays will be on display at the Christmas Tart and Tea fest to be sponsored by the Library Board on Saturday, Dec. 7, the Gibbons Hall commencing about 2:30 p.m. We invite your attendance at this tea, as the improvement of the library for your better enjoyment is our prime concern, and funding is a major problem. The Board regretfully accepted the resignation of Mrs. Shirley Steinwand who has been the chairman of the Library Board up to this time. Thank you, Shirley, for helping to get the Gibbons Library off to a good start.

REPORTER'S NOTE:

I feel that the Gibbons Senior Citizens deserve a hearty thank you and clap on the back from all the people of Gibbons and area, especially those that are making so much use of the arena.

Most of these people are living on a small pension and will get very little use of the arena. Still, they are giving so freely of their donations of food, money, time, etc., and are paying their own way. Perhaps more of us could follow their lead.

Congratulations to Wilfred and Emily Oliver who celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary on Nov. 14. Many happy returns.

Gibbons Local Association (Parents of Brownies and Guides) will hold a meeting Wednesday, Nov. 27, 2 p.m. at the Community Hall. Parents, please attend.

Everyone is invited to attend the grand opening of Ron and Al's Service on Saturday, Nov. 30 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Free coffee and donuts will be served. Mayor Loblick will cut the ribbon and there will be many prizes. Please drop in and meet Ron and Al.

G. Gorringer, district commissioner was on hand to invest the three leaders: Garry Cuthbert, Mike Bochanovsky and Bill Pollard. They were presented with scarves, woggles and badges.

Two Scouts were then invested by G. Gorringer. Newly invested, Garry Cuthbert was then able to invest his Cubs. Twenty boys were present for investiture. The sixers were then reintroduced.

Following investiture, parents joined in games with the boys, which turned out to be very lively.

Coffee, cupcakes, cookies and pop were served as an end to the evening.

A short parent committee (Parents of Cubs and Scouts) meeting followed, with very few parents staying.

A mother-son broomball game will be held at the arena on Dec. 1st, 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. Also, at the same time, there will be a bake sale, with baked items being for sale by the FATHERS. Admission will be $1.00, and coffee will be served.

Mothers, please don't disappoint your son, come out and have fun. Next meeting to be held December 4 at the Mezzanine.

There will be one hour of Mother and Tots skating at the arena, Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 4 p.m. If there is not sufficient interest after a few weeks, this will be cancelled. So put this in your calendar and remember to turn out Wednesday afternoons with your pre-schoolers.

The Board of Directors of the Sturgeon River Agricultural Society are asking for volunteer helpers for the concession in the arena. If you are interested in donating some of your spare time to a good cause, please contact John Vanderspoel 799-9146; Pat Morin 799-9492 or Wilf Oliver 799-9370. Your help would be greatly appreciated.

This parcel is on its way to Nojack, Alberta. Because Greyhound goes to places that other transportation companies don't. Nojack. New Norway. Nobleford . . .

Small places like these are important. Our agricultural economy depends on them. And they depend on good bus service. Not only for passengers but for express shipments as well.

Greyhound looks after packages as well as people. Since 1930 we've moved thousands of tons of express in Alberta. Everything from farm machinery parts to crystal glasses. Newspapers and magazines, school books and fishing hooks, dinnerware and underwear; all kinds of way-out items . . . to some very far-out places. In our 44 years in Alberta, we've expanded our routes to serve hundreds of communities and flagposts. Some of these routes are economical for Greyhound. Others aren't. But we still serve them all. Greyhound Canada was born in Alberta. Our national head office is still located here. Wherever we go in Alberta...Nojack, New Norway, Nobleford, or your corner of the province...it's all the same to us. It's home.

LOCAL INITIATIVES PROGRAM

By Peter Elzinga, MP
Pembina

The objectives of L.I.P. is to allocate the limited amount of funds in a manner meeting the employment needs of unemployed persons in those parts of Canada where winter unemployment is most severe. By no means an easy task, this allocation is required to respond to Canada's regionally varied unemployment situation. In the process it is necessary to utilize data normally based on a system of economic areas which in many cases are not defined on a constituency basis. Outlined is the method by which they have allocated this year's available funds to constituencies and also the amount arrived at for our riding of Pembina.

The method requires estimates of the size of the labour force and numbers of unemployed in each constituency. Statistics Canada publishes estimates of rates of labour force participation and unemployment for 41 economic regions in the country and figures for the winter of 1974, the latest available, were used. The first step, therefore, was to allocate these current official estimates of the labour force and unemployment to the constituencies making up each of the economic regions. This was done on the basis of the distributions by constituency from the 1971 census. Since the Labour Force Survey does not, however, cover Natives on reserves, direct estimates of labour force and unemployment among Natives were made for each constituency and added to the published figures. An independent estimate of unemployment was also obtained from departmental figures on clients without employment registered at the Canada Manpower Centres serving the various constituencies. The final figure on unemployment was obtained by combining these two independent estimates.

Funds for 1974/75 LIP are being distributed on the basis of the number of persons unemployed in excess of a four percent unemployment rate, subject to a minimum allocation of $75,000 in each constituency. This minimum was decided on since even those constituencies with very low rates of unemployment do contain some pockets of need. Given estimates of unemployment, the next step was to determine the number of unemployed which exceeds the base rate of unemployment of 4%. Having determined for each constituency the number of unemployed individuals to be considered for LIP fund allocations, the entire sum available for distribution, $79,442,000 was then distributed pro rata - subject to the requirement that no constituency should receive less than $75,000.

In Pembina, it has been estimated that the unemployment rate is 2.6% which is less than the 4% noted above. Consequently the allocation to our riding has been set at the minimum of $75,000. Our constituency has had many requests submitted and because of the small amount of money allocated to us, only some of these applications can be fulfilled. A Board of 11 members has been set up containing members from all areas of the constituency and it is their responsibility to list in priority which projects will be funded.

The Canadian Penitentiary Service has announced they will build a new medium security institution on a 125 acre site 12 miles northeast of downtown Edmonton, near Highway 15. The legal description of the property in the M.D. of Sturgeon is S.W. 21-S4-23-W4.

On October 20, I was on CFRN radio at 6:15 p.m. The radio station has offered Members the opportunity of reporting periodically to the constituents in this manner.

I was pleased to see that an application for an A.M. radio station in Westlock has been submitted to the Canadian Radio-Television Commission. I am sure it will be a big boost for Westlock.

GOLDENAGERS MEET

Oh my in this glorious weather it is a pleasure to attend the senior citizens of Calahoo's gathering which was held in the Gazebo on November 13 at 1:30 p.m. with 32 happy neighbors and friends counting their blessings in these grand fall days.

Shuffleboard has been revived and the men really enjoy themselves while others play cribbage or whist or just plain visit and catch up on happenings of the day before all get together for several games of bingo, before that always pleasant lunch hour. This time it was our pleasure to enjoy those tasty morsels made and donated by Mrs. J. Addie Thatcher for which she received a vote of thanks from the group.

This group will meet each week now since they are trying to negotiate for a building of their own.

Oh yes a letter was read from a company called Deluxe Tours Ltd., from St. Albert, informing us of the tours offered by this company.

Visitors are always welcome.

Sod turning Legal Alfalfa Products Ltd.

For some years, the concept of an alfalfa plant had been brewing in the minds of Legal area farmers who recognized the agricultural and economic benefits that such a plant would bring.

It was during 1973 that this idea really began to be seriously explored. Under the direction of Mr. Omer Pelletier, a group of interested persons did much preliminary work.

The results of their initial studies led the group to the decision to elect a board of directors which was given the responsibility of conducting a complete feasibility study and of incorporating the company.

Under the untiring leadership of Mr. Victor Douzich, information gathering studies were begun in areas such as who and where were the potential customers and markets for processed alfalfa, how many potential alfalfa suppliers there were in the area, what type and capacity of plant should be built, what the costs would be for equipment and materials, who were the possible contractors for such a project, where the plant should be located, how such an undertaking could be financed, what type of company should be formed, and what type of share structure the company should have.

One of the first major expenses incurred was the retaining of Mr. Ed. Hamula, an agricultural consultant. As a complete and detailed feasibility study was essential in order to make application for financing, the directors felt that Mr. Hamula's expert advice would be very helpful.

By late January, 1974, enough information had been gathered. The directors met with the prospective shareholders on February 4, and a firm commitment was made to proceed with the plant.

By the Spring of this year, negotiations were begun towards the purchase of land to the west of the railway tracks just north of the Legal grain elevators, and for the leasing of land on the CNR right-of-way to the north of the elevators.

During this period, countless evenings were spent going over proposals from building contractors and the various alfalfa processing equipment suppliers. These studies included a fact finding mission by three members of the board of directors to the Kansas area to have a first hand look at a number of plants in which the equipment from different companies was used, and also to have a look at the manufacturing facilities of two potential major suppliers. As the many contracts totalling slightly in excess of one million dollars were to be made in times of right money and spiralling costs, the directors were always very concerned with looking for the best value for each dollar spent. As share capital began to flow in, important purchase agreements were signed with Westeel Rosco for ten 40,000 bushel storage bins, (total package price in excess of $100,000) with McKee Harvester for one of the largest haystackers available and with New Holland for a heavy duty industrial type swather.

With the incorporation of the company in late May 1974, events began to transpire at a rapid pace particularly for Mr. Lucien Provost who, as Company President, devoted almost all his time to this project.

The most important task of securing adequate financing at satisfactory terms proved to be a challenging undertaking largely due to the current economic situation. However, the Provincial Government saw fit to extend a helping hand, and by the late summer, the board was ready to enter into the major contracts. Mr. Doug Little of Tisdale, Saskatchewan, a well experienced contractor with nine alfalfa processing plants in Western Canada to his credit was awarded the construction contract.

The choice of M.E.C. Co. of Neodesha Kansas, for plant engineering and as the supplier of the major equipments for the processing of alfalfa was based on its long record of proven reliability and excellent service.

One of the best known and experienced alfalfa plant operator in Western Canada was sought out as Manager of the Company. Maurice Daoust who will officially begin his duties on March 1st, 1975 brings with him many years of successful experience in Saskatchewan.

An order was also placed for two of the largest available forage harvesters. These $31,000 machines will be delivered in time for the first cutting in 1975.

In early October, the new swather and haystacker were put through their first tests as approximately 300 tons of alfalfa were stacked, ready to be processed as soon as the plant goes on stream.

During the same period the first work on the plant location was carried out. All the necessary surveying and testing was completed and the heavy machinery began operations. Some 30,000 cubic yards of earth were moved at the plant site, was prepared and a large reservoir was excavated.

At the time of this writing, construction work has just begun on the plant which will be the largest agricultural industry ever to come into the Municipal District of Sturgeon.

Susan Hunting and Randy Chalifoux exchanged marriage vows in the Roman Catholic Chapel in St. Albert on November 9. Father Joly celebrated the nuptial mass uniting the happy couple. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunting, Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chalifoux from Legal. A banquet was held at the St. Albert Inn followed by a dance and lunch at the Legal Recreation Centre for friends and relatives. Susan and Randy will reside in Edmonton.

Bishop Roy blesses Legal School addition

Just back from Rome, Bishop R. Roy of the St. Paul diocese blessed and officially opened the Legal School addition November 16.

Some 200 Legal residents took in the ribbon cutting ceremony and listened to congratulatory speeches from dignitaries both in and out of town as the $227,000 facility was officially opened.

Halfway through the congratulatory speeches time was allotted for some singing from the Legal School Choir to the audience in the school gymnasium and two presentations were made before a tour of the new facilities was made. The 11,220 square feet of the addition comprises office space, a library and classrooms built on the "open space" principle.

In the first presentation Master of Ceremonies and Principal of the Legal School, Dixon Keane, presented the Alberta Coat of Arms to the President of the Student's Union Patsie Montpetit. A framed picture of the Columbia icefields in the Province was also presented for the school's staff.

Bishop Roy who had just come back from Rome said the students and residents of Legal were lucky to have such fine facilities for their children. He said education was more than just concrete and four walls however. The end product should be to give children a set of values and mental discipline.

Reverend R. Bissomette, parish priest of Legal thanked all those who were involved with getting the new addition off the ground. "We have a beautiful school and should be proud of it," he said.

Town Councillor Roland Prefontaine congratulated the new school and said it should provide for the growing community which had increased in size recently by 15 per cent.

Morley Workun, architect with McIntosh, Workun and Chernenko said his firm were happy to be involved with educational building.

Mr. R. Marriener of the Department of Education and MLA for St. Albert Ernie Jamison congratulated the community for its achievement.

Mr. Jamison said it was always a pleasure to come to Legal, referring to a recent visit with his wife Shirley and he extended the best wishes of Premier Peter Lougheed to the community and its school addition.

Walter Van de Walle, councillor for the MD of Sturgeon No. 90 said: "We feel very much a part of the operation, for we get the taxes, for the buildings, school buses and snow removal." He said one of the most important aspects of education was that it should teach children how to live.

Harvey St. Onge, chairman of the Legal School Board pointed out that half the cost of the school addition had been borne by the school board without increasing the mill rate. He also thanked the Department of Education for their contribution of $135,000. He said the Board looked to the future and perhaps further extensions to the school. Finally he introduced members of the school board to the public and also staff at the Legal school.

Following the speeches, the blessing and ribbon cutting took place and were followed by a tour of the new facility and lunch served by members of the Student's Union.

ST. ALBERT MLA Ernie Jamison takes time off to chat with two young students Jason D'Encarnaseau and George Allen at the opening of the Legal school addition November 15.

Flood threat to Bon Accord arena

Following are some of the highlights of the regular meeting of MD of Sturgeon No. 90 held in Morinville November 14-15.

Following the recent announcement of grants up to $2,000 for improvements to community halls in the MD, Councillor Clay Crozier suggested that the MD make enquiries to the Provincial Government to see if more might be available for this project.

The Sturgeon Recreation Board told council that it had a surplus of $3,900 from the recreation because of programs which "may not have got started."

Representatives to Glacier Developments told council they have plans to put 115 houses in Bon Accord, but are having problems with the surface drainage on the site. They have dug a ditch for 1,300 feet of culvert to help solve the drainage problem, but council are insisting that the ditch should be filled to its own specifications. There are fears that if the pipe goes in too shallow, it may freeze during winter and the resulting floods in the spring could pose a threat to the Bon Accord arena.

Developer of the Namoo Ridge Estate Ken Richardson has requested that representatives of the MD attend the ribbon cutting ceremony for the official opening of the estate which has been slated for 1 p.m., November 28.

MD Council has been requested by the community of Riviere Qui Barre to ask the Department of Highways to put up a sign on Highway 2, two miles south of Morinville, pointing the location of the village. The community feels it too should have road signs of the kind which indicate Calahoo and Namoo further down the highway.

The Department of the Environment have commenced drilling to find a suitable location for a proposed nuisance ground which will serve Bon Accord, Legal and Gibbons. One possible site may be north of Bon Accord another may be located nearer the Sturgeon River to the south.

During the regular meet ing Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn brought up the snow clearance budget and said: "If this weather continues we'll have less snowplowing and we'll have to detail snowplowing out of the total." At the time this was being written November 16, a few snowflakes were spinning out of the sky.

It was announced at the meeting that $524,000 has been spent on travelling roads in the MD this year and that $41,000 would be coming back into MD coffers from the gravel program in the form of credit.

It was also pointed out by Councillor Robert Stack that Bunker C type oil used for spraying roads in the MD costs 27 cents a gallon compared to the previous price of 13 cents per gallon.

Mr. Stack also said that out of the total public works budget of $1,524,000, $1,312,000 has been spent.

The MD is to inform the AGT of its 1975 road construction program following a report from Villeneuve that an MD grader had inadvertently ripped out lines near that community recently.

And back to winter again. The MD council was informed that a new snowplow has been shipped out from the factory. It looks as though the MD will take the option on the new hydraulic plow, as the old machine has several deficiencies - one being that it is too narrow. Council could pay for the new machine out of capital funds next year.

Paquette-Belanger exchange vows-rings

By Liz McLeod
A beautiful autumn wedding was solemnized in St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Villeneuve on October 26 when Miss Annette Marie Emma Belanger, daughter of Robert and Jean Belanger of Villeneuve, pledged her vows to Mr. Edmond Joseph Paquette, Adolphe and Melina's eldest son from Calahoo.

Two large basket arrangements of yellow gladioli graced the altar for the ceremony performed by the Very Reverend Father John Adamsky.

Mr. Brian Klak was guitarist and he and Gerald Soetaert sang three selections during the ceremony.

The bride, coming down the aisle on the arm of her parents was beautiful in a long white net gown, trimmed with wide lace. The long puffy sleeves had wide light cutlets and the skirt flowed into a long wide train. Her long veil was held by a floral cap and she carried a large bouquet of red roses with lily of the valley.

Annette's maid of honor, her sister Louise Belanger, and bridesmaids, Denise Brenneis, and another sister Pauline wore identical gowns in yellow with floral flocked sheer overlay. They carried baskets of yellow and white flowers.

The little flower girl, Joanne Lutz wore an identical gown and carried the same type basket of flowers.

The groom was handsome in his double breasted brown suit accented with white frilly shirt, black bow tie and boutonniere.

The best men, Rick Dubois, Brian Brenneis and Omer Gratton were dashing in their brown suits, yellow ruffled shirts and black bow ties. The groom's youngest brother Emile, ringbearer, wore a brown and white plaid suit, white shirt and brown velvet bow tie. Normand Belanger and Omer Paquette ushered in the large number of wedding guests.

Following the ceremony guests gathered at the bride's parents home where many pictures were taken before going to the Camilla School Gym, Riviere Qui Barre where the reception and dance were held.

There were 24 people including the wedding party, the parents, grandparents and great grandmother, Mrs. Belanger making four generations seated at the honoured table including Father John who offered grace, and thanks afterwards, after everyone thoroughly enjoyed the delicious meal catered to by the ROB group.

The wedding cake was a uniquely different masterpiece. The round layers were held up by artistic lattice work forming the base for a lattice bridge, on which stood a bride and groom, enhanced by fitting tops and all in yellow and white trim.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother looked lovely in her long pink gown with floral overlay, enhanced by a wide pink ribbon belt and a pink corsage.

The groom's mother was elegant in her turquoise and white gown with white peek-a-boo lace overlay and long sleeves, complimented by a blue and white corsage.

Mr. Albert Soetaert was the congenial master of ceremonies. The very good old time music of the Starlites kept the dance floor filled and then at one point everyone gathered in a circle, and while the music played and hands were clapping, an old French custom came to light, when the bride's two older sisters did a dance of their own in a box, substituted for a trough.

Tradition has it that if the elder sisters (or brothers) cannot keep up dancing to their mother's clapping they will not marry. No worry for Louise and Pauline, as they did a magnificent job, keeping up to the clapping and music.

Out of town guests came from many parts of Alberta and there was a great uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. August Theberge from Leduc present, also Mr. and Mrs. Victor Laurin and children from Tangent, Alberta.

It was August Theberge's 82nd birthday and also the groom's parents' wedding anniversary on October 27.

so both these couples were recognized.

This fine couple are making their home in Green Willow District of Calahoo.

Family and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Ramstad on Sunday, November 17 to honour them on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. A gift and a purse were presented to them by Art Strawson on behalf of their friends.

Services held for Euclide Blais

Another pioneer, Euclide Blais, passed away at the Misericordia Hospital, on November 9, 1974 at the age of 74 years. He would have been 75 years old on November 14, the day of his funeral.

He was born in Fitchburg, Mass., U.S.A., in the year 1899. He came to Morinville at the age of 9, with his mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Blais and two young sisters.

His grandfather Michel Blais and family had only moved the year before, and lived three and one half miles north of Morinville. His dad took a homestead in Picardville and moved there with his family. In 1917 he sold his land and bought the store in Villeneuve and resided there till 1918.

Due to ill health, his grandfather, Michel Blais decided to move back to Fitchburg, U.S.A., with his sons. Alfred Blais also decided then to sell his Villeneuve Store and move to the States with his family.

In the spring of 1922, Euclide thought were still in Villeneuve and decided to come back to Alberta. He joined the CPR as brakeman in the fall of 1923. With this steady work, things were going good so in the spring of 1929, on April 10 he married his old sweetheart Lena Ouimet. He was then brakeman on the passenger train between Calgary and Fields.

In the fall of 1929, they decided to buy a quarter of land in Picardville. As hard times on the railroad and elsewhere was being felt by everyone. The big depression of the 30's was here as many oldtimers will recall. Things picked up a bit in 1940 but wasn't too steady so Euclide quit his railroad job and became a farmer in 1943. In 1961 he retired from the farm and moved into the City of Edmonton where he has lived ever since.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his loving wife Lena, one uncle Joseph Blais of Rocky Mountain House, Alberta; one cousin Mrs. Herve Arbour of Morinville; two brothers and three sisters in U.S.A.

A special thanks to the Misericordia Hospital, Dr. Hopkins and Father Giroux. Also many thanks to all the relatives and friends of Mrs. Lena Blais.

STURGEON REGIONAL RECREATION COUNCIL

Where does the money come from?

The Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council derives its revenue from many sources. The main source of revenue would be the Provincial and Federal government grants which provide the Council with 65.9% of its total revenue. Program and registration fees charged to people taking courses makes up 6.2% of the total revenue. The Town of Morinville, Villages of Bon Accord, Gibbons, Legal and the Municipal District of Sturgeon #90, through equalized assessment provide 27.9% of the total revenue.

The total anticipated 1974 Regional Recreation budget revenue was approximately $210,000.00. Of this total revenue the five governments supplied approximately $53,000.00, and $157,000.00 came from registration fees and grants (Provincial and Federal).

Where is the money spent?

The major part of the total budget is spent towards community development, sports, athletics, arts and crafts and leadership programs. This part of the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council budget makes up 74.4% of the total expenditures. Of the approximate total of $210,000.00 you consequently find that $156,240.00 finds its way back to the communities. You therefore find that an investment of $53,000.00 by the five local governments, gives them a return of $156,240.00. Any businessman could see the value of such an investment.

All organizations have administration costs. Of the total budget of $210,000.00 the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council spends approximately $53,760.00 or 25.6% towards administration, maintenance and operation of the office and Council expenditures.

OFFICE FACILITIES

In June of 1974 the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Department moved into what used to be the Cunningham School, in Morinville. Before being used as a recreation office, the Cunningham School had been abandoned for several years. It was felt that a building of this nature should be used and therefore the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council leased the building from the Sturgeon School Division. In spring of this year the building was repaired and painted and put into use as a Regional Recreation office. A major part of the repair expenses were covered by the Federal Government L.I.P. grant. Repaired at an approximate cost of $12,000.00 the building now serves as the focal point for Regional Recreation services in the area. The building is available for public use and people requiring the meeting room, arts and crafts room or the gymnasium are welcome to inquire at the Regional office about their availability. The building is now called the Sturgeon Regional Recreation office and it is located directly south of the Morinville Arena.

ADDRESS:
STURGEON REGIONAL RECREATION COUNCIL,
9820 - 104 Street, Box 570, Morinville, Alberta.
T0G 1P0. PHONE: 256-3318.

WHAT is the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council?

If you are a resident of the Municipal District of Sturgeon #90, the Town of Morinville, the Village of Bon Accord, the Village of Gibbons or the Village of Legal, then you have representation on the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council.

On July 12, 1973 the above mentioned local governments reached and signed an agreement establishing the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council, in order to foster, co-ordinate and promote the development, maintenance and operation of public recreation for all citizens within the jurisdiction of these five local governments.

Therefore, to define the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council, we shall say that it is five local governments co-operating together to achieve common goals in the field of recreation.

When forming this Council it was felt that representation from the three school boards of the area would be necessary in order to use school facilities for various recreation programs. To this end, the school boards have representation on the Council and are part of the decision making process.

WHO serves on this council?

The Council is comprised of 11 representatives, four appointed by the Municipal District of Sturgeon #90, one appointed by the Town of Morinville, one appointed by the Village of Legal, one appointed by the Village of Bon Accord, one appointed by the Village of Gibbons, one appointed by the Legal School Division, one appointed by the Legal School District and one appointed by the Thibault School District.

These Council members are: on behalf of the Municipal District of Sturgeon #90: Jim Kyle, Clayton Crozier, Keith Everett, Angus McDonell; on behalf of the Village of Legal: Leon Brissou; on behalf of the Village of Gibbons: Joe Krupa; on behalf of the Village of Bon Accord: Ken Whitson; on behalf of the Town of Morinville: Flo McGinnis; on behalf of the Thibault School District: Alice Wojtkiw; on behalf of the Legal School District: Bill Krauskopf; on behalf of the Sturgeon School Division: John McDonell.

The Chairman of the Council is Keith Everett. The chairman is elected, among the representatives, at the yearly reorganizational meeting.

We have a recreation board,

WHY do we need a regional recreation council?

That is true, you have a Recreation Board, who looks after the community's individual and immediate needs.

All five governments have, set up by bylaw, a Recreation Board for their residents. We, therefore, have the Morinville, Bon Accord, Legal, Gibbons and Sturgeon Recreation Boards. These Recreation Boards are responsible for local matters such as special events and maintaining facilities, park development and programs such as hockey, baseball, figure skating, and arts and crafts. Residents pay property taxes to the Village, Town or Municipal District in order to receive these services. However, farmers, acreage holders and residents of the Municipal District of Sturgeon, pay property taxes to the Municipal District of Sturgeon and not to the Town or Village where they obtain recreational services. For example, the farmer living outside the boundaries of the Town of Morinville pays his taxes to the Municipal District of Sturgeon but receives his recreational services in Morinville, where he pays no taxes. Such is also the case in Gibbons, Bon Accord and Legal.

Through the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council, this program has been rectified. Equal recreational opportunity is available to everyone residing within the boundaries of the M.D. of Sturgeon #90. Through the Regional Recreation Council your local Recreation Board receives help on demand for all community programs such as athletics, general interest, arts and crafts, etc. and if asked will assist your Recreation Board in policy making, park development and facility development.

Further to this, the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council also applies for recreation grants on behalf of the local governments, in order to insure that we as property and income tax payers receive our share.

Another problem rectified by the formation of this council is that, through a combined regional recreation budget every recreation board and recreation organization receives the services of recreation professionals. The regional staff was hired to work, full time, for your benefit.

Therefore, let us summarize by saying that, every individual residing within the boundaries of the Municipal District of Sturgeon #90 has access to the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council, directly, or through their local Board.

What are the Programs?

The main function of the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council is to offer recreational programs to all people, of all ages. Therefore, through the auspices of the Regional Recreation Council and your Recreation Board you may receive assistance in tiny-tot programs - such as creative movement, playgroups and arts and crafts; children's programs - such as arts and crafts, playgrounds, swimming, camping, sports; teen programs - such as swimming, teen clubs, 4H clubs, physical fitness, athletics and sports; adult programs such as defensive driving, sports, swimming, arts and crafts, fitness, first aid and senior citizen programs - such as senior citizen clubs, tours, fitness. Through all our services and functions our main concern is to assist the individual citizen in their recreational pursuits.

Another aspect of programs is the leadership development programs whereby community people are trained to teach arts and crafts courses and other programs of interest.

Regular Meetings

The regular meetings of the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council are held on the second Monday of every month. In cases where that Monday is a holiday, the meeting will be held on Tuesday. All regular meetings of the Regional Council are open meetings and therefore you can attend. If you wish to express your views at that meeting please advise us of this three days before the meeting. Meetings are held in the Board room of the Regional office, and begin at 8 p.m.

Wanted - Disease resistant alfalfa

Re-issued from W. O. Klatt's office.

Surveys of alfalfa in Southern Alberta this spring showed that the number of unthrifty stands has increased. This was especially noticeable among those sitands grown under irrigation. Disease symptoms indicate winter injury caused by deep snow cover, ice sheeting, low temperature, and by winter crown rot.

Winter crown rot is caused by a cold-tolerant fungus that is active during alfalfa's dormancy. It causes serious losses in central and northern Alberta and central and northern Saskatchewan. Winter crown rot is also active in British Columbia, Manitoba, the Yukon, and Alaska.

Damage is most severe when the plants have been covered by snow and when the snow has melted slowly in the spring.

At the Lethbridge Research Station, we are trying to incorporate resistance to winter crown rot into a cold-hardy variety of alfalfa. A range of varieties and strains, particularly those with known or suspected resistance to winter crown rot, will be assessed in cold temperature cabinets and in the greenhouse and field.

Crown bud rot is another important disease of alfalfa in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and British Columbia. It is caused by a group of soil-borne fungi that are active throughout the growing season on all our recommended varieties. The disease, like winter crown rot, causes severe forage losses and limits the useful life of an alfalfa stand to three-four years. Thus, resistance to this disease must also be incorporated into new varieties.

Crown bud rot is often associated with stem nematodes in alfalfa and these "worms" cause reduced yields of alfalfa. We have already developed strains of alfalfa that are resistant to stem nematodes, and these strains will be tested for tolerance or resistance to the crown rotting organisms.

Detailed plans for breeding work for disease-resistant selections will be made after the best available sources of resistance are known. Breeding for resistance to winter crown rot and crown bud rot will be a difficult project. But a successful conclusion will ensure increases in yield and longevity and an extension northward of alfalfa growing.

Cold Water Detergents

By Pat Prymak,

District Home Economist
When it comes to laundering, I'll bet that in your Grandma's time and now, you have the same goal: to get the cleanest wash. Right?

Within the past two years more and more cold water detergents have come on the market and challenged the old "hot water" routine. People use them but are not quite sure if the cold water detergents successfully remove laundry soil.

Six experimental stations in the U.S.A. just recently conducted studies on that very question. White cotton fabrics were soiled to resemble normal wear conditions. Some were laundered with hot water (140 F) and a heavy duty granular detergent, some with hot water and a liquid cold water detergent, and others in cold water (70 F) with the same granular and liquid detergents.

After the washing, samples from all four wash loads were judged by several judges. They each looked for appearance, smoothness, and softness. The soil and oil retention, shrinkage, whiteness and fabric strength were all determined by laboratory tests.

Research results showed that substantially more oil and clay type soil was removed in hot water than in cold, and that oily soil buildup was greater in samples washed in cold water. In both hot and cold water, the regular granular detergent was more effective, and the fabrics were whiter than with the liquid cold water detergent. Fabric smoothness and softness were judged better when washed in hot water rather than cold. The type of detergent had no effect on smoothness and softness, however.

Advertisers use the money saving aspect of using cold water for laundry as a selling feature, but there really was no substantial difference in price once other factors were considered. For example, the cost of detergents and water heating varied greatly, and the costs of adding bleach for sanitation purposes was also considered. No general statement could be made regarding cost of hot water versus cold water laundering.

This study was not all-inclusive because it did not use all brands of cold water laundry detergents, but it does point out the sanitation factor of hot water. It also confirms the belief that oily stains require hot water for the most thorough removal. It is up to the consumer to decide whether any differences in cost are great enough to influence her choice between hot and cold water laundering.

Warble treating

By Wally Klatt,
District Agriculturist

The season for the safe treating of warbles in cattle is drawing to a close for the use of certain chemicals.

For those who have not treated as yet, the following information may be beneficial.

The common treatments used are spraying with, or pouring on Coumaphos or Ruclene. The following comments are offered to assist producers as to what chemical to use.

CO-RAL (Coumaphos) - Use a 0.5 (zero point five) concentration and spray on. Mix two pounds of 25 per cent W.P. per 10 gallons of water and spray one gallon of this mixture per animal - ONCE. Treat from September to December 15. This is not the cut-off date for this treatment, but for best results early treatment is recommended. DO NOT apply on milking cows at any time, on animals to be slaughtered within seven days, on cows to freshen within 14 days, and on animals under three months of age. DO NOT treat sick, animals. DO NOT use pyrethrins, allethrin or synergists. Animals should have access to feed and water before and after treatment.

For lice use a 0.25 per cent concentration (zero point 25) or one-half the concentration of that for warbles. Spray at one gallon per animal. Frequency is ONCE. Treat in October or November. DO NOT use on young calves or on sick animals, and NOT within seven days of slaughter or 14 days before freshening. DO NOT use with pyrethrins allethrin or synergists.

RUELENE 25E - Mix a concentration of 0.5 (zero point five) per cent with water, the rate being 6 fluid ounces of Ruclene 25E with 20 gallons of water. Spray or brush on and use one gallon of the mix per animal. Frequency is ONCE. DO NOT apply during December, January and February. DO NOT apply within seven days of slaughtering the beef animals or within three days of freshening of dairy cows. DO NOT apply to dairy cows in milk, calves under 300 lb. body weight, and sick, fatigued, or convalescing animals within 10 days of weaning, shipping, or exposure to infectious diseases. DO NOT treat sick animals, animals with lung damage or animals pasturing on rape or within seven days of removal from rape pasture. See instructions under pour-on treatment.

Observe animals closely following treatment for signs of irritation and if cattle re-act abnormally consult your veterinarian. If the treated animals have bloat, puncture the rumen to relieve the gas, but do not pass a hose through the esophagus. Observe the instructions given under Ruclene spray.

For lice use the mixture of 64 fluid ounces of Ruclene 25E (0.5 per cent) with 20 gallons of water. Spray this mixture on the animals at one gallon per head. The frequency is ONCE.

DO NOT apply during December, January and February unless animals have been treated systematically for warbles in the fall. DO NOT apply to dairy cows in milk, calves under 300 lb. body weight and sick, fatigued, or convalescing animals.

RUELENE 12R - The concentration is 12 per cent and is ready to use by pour-on. The frequency is once in 28 days and the dosage is 0.5 (zero point five) per cent per 100 pound body weight. DO NOT a) dilute, b) use in water spray, c) apply before branding (highly flammable). Follow all the instructions given under Ruclene 25E.

NEGUVON - Use a concentration of 8.0 (eight point zero) per cent. This mixture is ready to use. This is a pour-on chemical and the dosage is ONCE at a rate of one-half ounce per 100 pounds. DO NOT apply during months of December, January or February. DO NOT treat dairy cows in milk, calves under three months, animals which are sick, convalescent or under stress. DO NOT use in conjunction with other organic phosphates. DO NOT treat within 21 days of slaughter. DO NOT apply to nonlactating dairy cows within seven days of freshening. If freshening occurs within seven days, do not use milk for human food within the seven days following treatment.

For lice use the same mixture of 8.0 (eight point zero) per cent and pour-on ONCE at a rate of one-half ounce per 100 pounds. DO NOT apply during months of December, January or February. DO NOT treat dairy cows in milk, calves under three months, animals which are sick, convalescent or under stress. DO NOT use in conjunction with other organic phosphates. DO NOT treat within 21 days of slaughter. DO NOT apply to non-lactating dairy cows within seven days of freshening. If freshening occurs within seven days, do not use milk for human food within the seven days following treatment.

A pour-on application will control lice for a period of two weeks. REMEMBER - read the labels carefully before using and follow these label directions carefully when using.

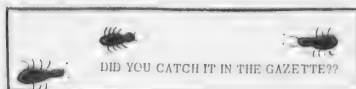

Kindly note that the MD of Sturgeon is warble free and therefore all cattle owners are to treat their cattle for warbles, even if you own only one animal.

Film on calving

By Wally Klatt
On December 5 at 1 p.m. will be showing a 40 minute colour film on calving. We also plan to have a veterinarian in attendance to answer questions on calving and call sours. This will be held in the MD building in Morinville. Everybody is welcome to attend.

Wellington Park-thriving community

Wellington Park Community has got to be one of the most active leagues to be found anywhere. Chatting with President Jack Bruce we learned that the air-cooled hall, with the new addition, the skating rink and all the construction is debt free.

Activities Chairman, Jim Croft, tells us that they have 200 kids playing hockey, as well as a full sports program consisting of basketball, soccer little league baseball and softball.

The hall is used to capacity, for bingo, lessons in tap, baton, Hawaiian and modern jazz lessons, scouts and cubs also use the hall.

These accomplishments are the products of the men and women who give freely of their time and talent. From Louise and Edith in the kitchen to real star material like Lionel Touchette a soloist in the variety show.

In 1964 Jack Unwin came to help Wellington Park put on the first variety show. He used his special brand of magic on a group of husbands and wives, whose greatest talent was a lot of nerve to stage that first show.

A $2.00 admission to wing-ding in 1965 bought 2 1/2 hours of entertainment, a hot meal, all the beer you could drink and a souvenir mug to take home. The show ran for two nights and played to 300 people. Glad You Could Come is the 14th anniversary show, and admission to the hall is $3.00. But despite the price, 5,000 people still managed to purchase tickets. The show runs for 14 nights and has been sold out for weeks. The show is a mirth filled evening that no-one should miss.

Anne Gribble and Laura Laver, in the make-up room do complete transformations on housewives, turning them into beauties of the stage.

Costumes are made in the most part by the cast. All these endeavours seemed professional under the guidance of Nick Semotuk, the show chairman.

Denny Hardage and Karen Barber were great in the roles of music director and choreographer.

The producers of the show, the comedy team of Gabe Keller and Peter Chmiliar have been entertaining Edmonton and area audiences for years. They've appeared at the Macdonald Hotel during Klondike Days, at the Stampede Corral in Calgary and the Kinsmen National Convention.

Show business is just a fun thing for Gabe and Peter, something they do in their spare time. Pete's an Edmontonian, probably more easily recognized as the "Mayor of Vegreville." Gabe lives in St. Albert and MCs the show, as well as entertains handily on his own. These two have scores of people looking forward to seeing them do their thing every year.

Light at the end of the tunnel?

One year after the arab oil embargo and the subsequent fourfold increase in the price of oil, economists now generally agree the Western world is not headed for a depression. Nevertheless, they do not believe the situation especially bright.

The whole Western world can be considered to be going through a recession. Unemployment is generally on the rise and the psychological climate is far from optimistic. If all goes well, the driving force behind the economic recovery of the industrialized countries is expected to be a sharp upturn in the U.S. economy and a strong increase in Germany's imports.

The danger of a longer recession, of course, lies in the possibility that the consumer will not regain his optimism soon, and that the European countries and Japan will continue their defla-tionary policies for too long. Britain and Italy present the gloomiest pictures. Inflation is running at an annual rate of 20 per cent -- give or take a few percentage points either way -- in both of these most-troubled countries, and there does not seem to be any near-term solution to their problems. Basic changes in political and social arrangements are clearly called for -- but any hope that these will be forthcoming is tenuous.

In Europe, France stands out as the only country which is trying to find new ways of beating the current situation. The situation in the U.S. is probably the most predictable, because it is so little dependent on foreign trade. Former Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers Paul McCracken said last week that the U.S. is in a recession -- the administration has always tried to call it something else -- and that there will be a sharp upturn only next summer. He expects unemployment to rise to about seven per cent and wage increases to average about 11 per cent. Nevertheless, economic history in recent years has been going from one shock to another and there is always a nagging feeling that another might lurk around the corner.

Young poets enjoy success

Winners of the first Poets of Alberta contest were announced this week by contest sponsor Alberta Culture, Youth and Recreation.

The three winners, who submitted entries which tied in quality for first place, were: Raymond de celles Gariepy, 20, of Edmonton with a poem entitled Faces; Erin Moure, 19, of Calgary with Second Notebook; Fur and Stone; Deena Hunter, 20, of Edmonton with Prairie Sketches.

The three young poets share a prize of $600.

Plans are in hand to publish a collection of their works, some of which will be heard over CKUA Radio, Edmonton, in the near future.

Commenting on the competition, Culture, Youth and Recreation Minister Horst A. Schmid said judges had a difficult task considering the manuscripts submitted. The three winners were so much "at par" that it was felt all three should be treated equally.

"It's of special interest that the winners are so young," said Mr. Schmid. "They'll have opportunity to develop through experience, and their success is a promising development for poetry in Alberta."

Judging the contest's 354 entries were University of Alberta Professors D. Barbour, department of English, and M. Duciaume, department of romance languages, and Drs. E. Blodgett, department of comparative literature, and R. Braun, department of classics.

Farm chores can be done with the push of a button.

A pressure switch, thermostat, time clock or similar device can even "push" that button.

Automatically controlled electric equipment is the basis for "farming electromatically". Your time is too valuable to stand around managing equipment. When it comes to making the most efficient, most profitable use of electricity, your Calgary Power Agricultural Representative is there to help you.

His free technical advice and brochure are yours for the asking. His job is not to sell electrical equipment, but to help you get the greatest benefit from it.
